● Robust govt spending boosts Q1 growth ● India, Japan unveil 10-yr economic roadmap

GDP grows 7.8%, beats estimates

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

AMID unprecedented global uncertainties precipitated by US President Donald Trump's tariff war, India's GDP grew to a 5-month high of 7.8% in the April-June quarter, beating all estimates and surprising many.

Most analysts had expected India's growth to come in below 7% during the period. Even the RBI projection for the first quarter was a moderate 6.5%, which showed the spectacular resilience of the Indian economy.

The strong performance was driven by a buoyant services sector, which registered a substantial real GVA (gross value added) growth of 9.3%, and the manufacturing sector, which grew 7.7% during the quarter.

Chief Economic Adviser V Anantha Nageswaran said the growth was broad-based. "Agriculture GVA rose 3.7%, which is usually expected to be modest in this quarter. Manufacturing expanded by 7.7%, while services also recorded strong growth, consistent with robust PMI services readings in recent months," he said.

Both manufacturing and construction sectors demonstrated robust growth, with GVA rates of 7.7% and 7.6%, respectively. The agriculture and allied sector also showed healthy improvement, rising to 3.7% from 1.5%.

Private consumption grew 7%, lower than 8.3% a year ago but still strong. The CEA said rural consumption had held up well. "We would even argue that urban consumption hasn't been as weak as some indicators suggest. Rural consumption has been supported by sharply rising real wages in agriculture," he said.

Government spending provided a boost, with final consumption expenditure rising 7.4% during the quarter. Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF)—spending on infrastructure and asset creation—rose 7.8%, higher than 6.7% in Q1 FY25.

Economists attribute the Q1 growth to front-loaded government spending and a surge in exports to the US, which grew 22% during the three-month period.

The Q1 GDP numbers were for the period before Trump imposed tariffs on Indian goods.

Analysts fear GDP data for the second quarter may take a hit with the impact of the US tariffs on Indian goods factored in.

Real GDP at ₹47.89 lakh crore

In absolute terms, the real GDP for Q1 of 2025-26 is estimated at ₹47.89 lakh crore, up from ₹44.42 lakh crore in the same quarter last year. The nominal GDP for the quarter stands at ₹86.05 lakh crore, up 8.8%

After seeing the resilience of Q1 growth, we are retaining the growth rate projections for current fiscal at 6.3-6.8%

WORLD COUNTING ON INDIA, SAYS MODI IN JAPAN

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

AMID a shifting global trade landscape, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday used his first foreign visit since the US imposed sweeping 50% tariffs on key Indian imports to deliver a clear message from Tokyo: the world is counting on India. "The world is not just watching India. It is counting on India," Modi said, addressing top business leaders at the India-Japan Economic Forum alongside his Japanese counterpart Shigeru Ishiba.

India and Japan unveiled a 10-year economic roadmap aimed at long-term stability, strategic cooperation, and mutual resilience. Its centerpiece is to secure critical supply chains, expand AI and digital cooperation, and deepening private sector investment.

Japan committed to mobilising 10 trillion yen (approximately $68 billion) in private investment in India over the next decade — a move widely seen as a vote of confidence in India's economic trajectory at a time of global realignment.

"We have laid a strong foundation for a new and golden chapter in our Special Strategic and Global Partnership," Modi said. "This roadmap aligns with the priorities of both nations and meets the challenges of a changing world."

The summit launched the India-Japan Economic Security Cooperation Initiative, aimed at a "whole-of-nation" approach to bolster strategic sectors like semiconductors, rare earths, clean energy, AI, telecom, and biotech. P11

Farm owner dumps swine flu-hit pig carcasses into village lake

V VELAYUDHAM @ Chikkaballapur

A pig farm owner has dumped carcasses of nearly 50 to 60 pigs that were infected with African swine flu in the lake at Hebburi village of Chintamani taluk in Chikkaballapur district, highly infecting the water body.

District Health Officer Dr SS Mahesh said a team of doctors reached Hebburi village on Friday and tested people for any infection. The village has 206 houses with a population of around 700 people. Though the village is 3 km from the lake, all measures are being taken, he added.

Villagers are not showing any signs of fever. However, the samples of villagers will be taken for a week. They have been advised to wash their hands and legs thoroughly in the morning and evening, he said.

The Institute of Animal Husbandry and Veterinary Biological (IAH and VB) has confirmed it as the highly contagious form of swine flu. Another team of officials has camped at the farm owned by Venkata Reddy and is culling all the pigs at the farm and disposing them of as per procedure, said Chikkaballapur Deputy Director of Animal Husbandry Dr Rangappa.

A team from different departments, including Dr SS Mahesh, veterinary, revenue and police officials, is carrying out the culling operations, he said.

It was Venkata Reddy who informed veterinary department officials about flu-like symptoms in his pigs at the farm. But before that, he had dumped in the lake the carcasses of the pigs that had died due to the infection. As the carcasses started decomposing, giving out a foul smell, the villagers too had alerted the officials. The officials then collected samples and sent them to IAH and VB. The lab informed that it was African flu, Rangappa said.

The lake is now being cleaned and chlorinated. Revenue officials will put up a board warning people to stay away from the lake and not to use its water till further notice.

Man strangles daughter, burns body in K'buragi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kalaburagi

AN 18-year-old was strangled to death by her father at their home and later her body was burnt in an attempt to destroy evidence in Kalaburagi, said the police on Friday.

The deceased was identified as Kavita. The police suspect it was an instance of honour-killing. The murder took place at Melakunda village, a few kilometres away from Kalaburagi City, on Wednesday. With no villager coming forward to register a complaint, an assistant sub-inspector at Fartabad Police Station, Ashok Jamadar, said he had to step in.

The police have registered an FIR against Kavita's father, Shankar Kollur, and two others, Sharanappa Kollur and Dattappa, for murder.

Police sources said that Kavita, a Lingayat, was in love with Malappa Pujari, a Kuruba, and an auto-rickshaw driver.

A few days ago, Kavita's family came to know about her relationship with Malappa and tried to dissuade her. She said she wanted to marry Malappa and if the family members opposed it, she would elope with him. On Wednesday, Shankar strangled his daughter with his hands at their house. With the help of his nephew, Sharanappa, and another relative, Dattappa, Shankar poured pesticide in her mouth and claimed that Kavita committed suicide by consuming pesticide. They later burnt her body in a field belonging to Shankar's brother, Mahalingappa. The police are yet to arrest the accused.

Yaduveer does U-turn, says Banu Mushtaq must clarify

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

MYSURU-Kodagu MP and scion of the erstwhile Mysuru royal family Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar on Friday did a U-turn from his previous statement of welcoming the government's decision to select International Booker Prize winner Banu Mushtaq to inaugurate Mysuru Dasara festivities this year. He said, "After seeing her earlier statements about Kannada and Goddess Bhuvaneshwari, I feel our sentiments have been hurt. Unless she clarifies or withdraws those remarks, I cannot support her inaugurating the Dasara."

He said his opposition is not against his party BJP's decision. "The party's stand is my stand. But personally, unless there is a clarification, I am against her inaugurating the Dasara," he said. He also hit out at Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar for his statement that Chamundi Hill is not exclusively a Hindu religious site. "Chamundi Hill has always been a Hindu shrine. How can it be a centre of faith for others? Such statements are absurd and laughable," he said.

Meanwhile, members of the Hindu Jagarana Vedike marched to the DC's office on Friday and submitted a memorandum demanding that the government replace Mushtaq with someone else to open the festivities.

Plea to extend SIR by a week to be heard on Sept 8: SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday decided to hear on September 8 the Rashtriya Janata Dal's (RJD) plea seeking one more week for filing claims and objections on voter registration as part of the special intensive revision (SIR) in Bihar.

Senior advocate Prashant Bhushan, appearing for the RJD, mentioned the matter before a three-judge bench of justices Surya Kant, Joymalya Bagchi and Vipul M Pancholi, seeking a week's extension to the September 1 deadline.

Bhushan said the RJD and a few other parties have filed applications seeking the extension of the September 1 deadline. The SC in its order agreed to bunch it with other matters on September 8.

Bhushan said over 1,75,000 claims and objections were made before and after the August 22 court order. The August 22 order directed the Election Commission of India (ECI) to allow the 65 lakh excluded voters to submit their claims online besides physical submissions in poll-bound Bihar.

The number of claims doubled from 84,305 on August 22 to 1,78,948 on August 27 in just five days, the RJD said.

When the bench asked the petitioners why they hadn't approached ECI for relief, Bhushan claimed the poll panel had not considered their request.

"Unless extended, genuine electors whose names have been erroneously deleted by the EC will not be able to submit their claims and consequently will be barred from exercising their right to vote in the coming elections."

CNR Rao Circle work will restrict movement of IISc staffers, CS told

ENS @ Bengaluru

INDIAN Institute of Science (IISc) Director Prof Govindan Rangarajan has penned a letter to Chief Secretary Shalini Rajneesh, saying the modification work under way at CNR Rao Circle by the BBMP will restrict the movement of IISc staffers from the campus to Malleswaram.

In the letter, a copy of which is with TNIE, Rangarajan said the BBMP chief commissioner had looked at concerns raised by IISc by visiting the spot. The main gate of the institute is the direct route used to reach Mehkri Circle, Malleswaram and Yeshwanthpur. Many VVIPs also visit the campus. The alternatives pointed out, including the access through the narrow underpass connecting IISc and the junction, are not feasible. The work which is being executed on the ground will obstruct traffic flow. He added that the campus is already divided into four parts because of the various roads, including the Yeshwanthpur-Malleswaram Road, Mehkri Circle-CNR Rao Circle Road, and the HMT Road. In the letter, Rangarajan urged BBMP to ensure that the final decision and work will not block access to Malleswaram from IISc's main entrance.

Only 18.5% of work done on Suburban Rail project

INDRA S @ Bengaluru

L&T OPTS OUT

AFTER Larsen & Toubro (L&T) terminated contracts to execute Corridors 2 (C-2) and 4 (C-4) of the Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project (BSRP), progress stands at 28 per cent and 6 per cent for C-2 and C-4 respectively -- overall 18.5 per cent -- after spending nearly Rs 2,000 crore, according to South Western Railways (SWR). The project completion deadline has been pushed from 2026 to 2027 or 2028, subject to delay over land acquisition and other hurdles.

The BSRP was to be completed by October 2026 as per the sanction letter; however, on June 20, 2022, PM Narendra Modi had said the project would be completed in 40 months.

SWR GM Mukul Saran Mathur, in an interaction with TNIE, said the project's completion target may extend to 2027 or 2028. However, he clarified that SWR does not have direct control over the project, and its role is limited to technical support, clearances and integration. Highlighting coordination challenges, Mathur said, "Urban projects require synchronisation between civil works, track, signalling, electrical and rolling stock. This is not happening smoothly." He pointed to land acquisition and depot issues as key bottlenecks. "Land acquisition for Corridors 2 and 4 is pending. For example, depot land is yet to be acquired. Without full land availability, the 2027-28 target may slip," he said.

However, another senior official questioned the unilateral termination of the contract. "For C2, 21km of land is available, with issues only on 4km. For C4, 25km is available. But still, questions remain: where is the casting yard and on ground process?" According to SWR data, about 97.75 per cent of land area-wise, and 86 per cent linear length is available for work execution and the land was handed over to L&T. Meanwhile, Union Minister of State for Railways V Somanna, at a press conference here on Friday, said in the next 20-25 days, a survey will be carried out in consultation with the Central government to prepare a roadmap for execution of all four corridors of the project.

Meanwhile, Bengaluru Central MP PC Mohan said Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project has seen only 22% progress since 2020. L&T exited Corridors 2 & 4 after just 8.28% land handover in 2 years, escalating costs from Rs 1,498cr to Rs 7,000cr. The state must hand over the project to the Railways for timely completion.

Students protest delay in appointing guest faculty in government colleges

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AIDSO members hold placards demanding immediate appointment of guest faculty at government colleges during a stir at Freedom Park on Friday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

HUNDREDS of students under the banner of All India Democratic Students Organisation (AIDSO) protested in Freedom Park on Friday, demanding immediate appointment of guest faculty in government degree colleges.

For the past month, government colleges across Karnataka have been reportedly functioning without adequate staff. Students are left with only one or two classes handled by permanent lecturers, while most sit idle and return home.

"Nearly 80 per cent of government degree colleges run entirely with the support of 25,000 guest faculties. Instead of ensuring smooth functioning by appointing them, the government is delaying the process in the name of UGC regulations. In this negligence, it is the students who are being made scapegoats. Admissions to government colleges have already been declining due to poor infrastructure and lack of quality education. The present crisis will only worsen the situation and further push students away from govt higher educational institutions," AIDSO state vice-president Abhaya Diwakar said.

"The Supreme Court in its judgement on implementation of NEP-2020 had ruled that the state government can have its own policy on educational matters and is not compelled to follow the Centre. Yet, on UGC guidelines regarding appointment of guest lecturers, the government is not showing willingness to frame its own policy. This shows its attitude towards government degree students. Meanwhile, private colleges have begun classes on schedule and many are holding their first internals already as well. Yet, classes are yet to resume in government colleges. Here, we expect the state government to take responsibility of the issue," said AIDSO Bengaluru district president Apoorva CM.

ROBs, RUBs in and around city to be ready in 2 yrs: Somanna

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

UNION Minister of State for Railways V Somanna on Friday said that in the next two years, all Road Over Bridges and Road Under Bridges within a 100-km radius of Bengaluru will be completed. He said the move aims to eliminate all level crossings in the city.

Addressing reporters after a review meeting on the construction of ROBs and RUBs in and around Bengaluru, he announced that 39 more level crossings in and around the city are planned to be replaced by ROBs and RUBs to ease traffic congestion and enhance public safety. He added that in Bengaluru, approximately 75 ROBs and RUBs have been constructed instead of Level Crossing gates. Out of these, 56 were fully funded by the Ministry of Railways, 16 were executed under cost-sharing between the State and Central Governments, and 3 were built by the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI).

The Union Minister announced that a committee will be created with Additional Chief Secretary of Urban Development Department (UDD) Tushar Girinath leading it. It will include Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP), Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) and other departments for faster and easier execution of the ROBs and RUBs.

The Bengaluru City Police presented a list of the most traffic-congested railway gates in the city, where construction of ROBs and RUBs will be taken up on priority. It was also informed that 13 ROBs and RUBs have already been sanctioned in Bengaluru, and work is in progress, he further added. Somanna also announced that there is a plan to construct a mega coach terminal and it is most probably to be located in Devanahalli.

BENGALURU'S RISING ACE: TYAGI ALL SET FOR US OPEN JR

SAPTARSHI C @ Bengaluru

KRIISH Ajay Tyagi, India's top-ranked junior tennis sensation and currently ranked World No 49 on the ITF Junior Tour, is gearing up to make his mark on the global stage. The 18-year-old Bengaluru powerhouse now sets his sights on the US Open Junior title, kicking off August 31.

Talking to TNIE, Tyagi said, "My goal is to become world no.1 in men's singles. To reach that position, I'm ready to do anything. This time, I will focus on my serves and forehand. My team has started some specific training after the Wimbledon session. For the US Open, we skipped a few events to make time for physical, mental and skill training. I feel more ready now."

A proven force on hard courts, Tyagi has maintained a formidable record across years — winning 74% on the surface in 2022, 75% in 2024, and 60% in 2025. With the US Open played on the same surface, Tyagi is primed to be a serious contender in New York.

The 18-year-old's coach and the instructor at the Harsha Lingappa Tennis Academy, Sachin Vasantha Kumara, said

KRIISH TYAGI
Hometown: Bengaluru
Age: 18 | Jr Ranking: 49
Avg serve speed: 200 km/hr
Best shots: Serves and Forehands
Winning % in hard courts: 70% (approx)

Tyagi's average serve speed is 200 kmph. Along with the average wind speed of 16 kmph and top spin advantage; the condition should be suitable for Tyagi. Without revealing too much about specific training, Kumara said, "We train him for at least 3-4 hours. We are still trying to improve his wrist strength. With the practice matches going on, we are experimenting with different strategies. During the clutch points, Tyagi will definitely go for forehands."

To stay completely fit ahead of big events like the US Open, Tyagi follows a disciplined nutrition plan with five to six meals a day. His diet is balanced with carbohydrates, proteins, ample hydration and fresh salads. "When he first joined our academy, he was a skinny boy. But after committing to this regimen, the transformation has been remarkable," said his coach.

"My family is the biggest support for me. My mom always wakes up early and prepares food for me, and takes me for coaching. My brother also helps me a lot and keeps tabs on my schedule. I'm really thankful to my coaches. Sachin is always there for me," Tyagi said.

"Though I have a few sponsors, that is not enough for me to travel to all the games. We had to cut down on tournaments and we have to be very specific. I want the government to support us," Tyagi said. This impacts his ranking as well, he said.

30TH August: Some physicists are supporting a concept known as Block Time. This is a modern term for the ancient idea that past, present and future all exist at the same time. This is important for astrologers because it means that it really is theoretical to predict the future with certainty.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You have a reputation for getting your own way. In part, this is others' fault for allowing themselves to be overruled. However, today may I advise you to be extra sensitive to partners' rather delicate feelings. The more pleasant you are to them, the nicer they'll be to you.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You could be at your most persuasive. This really is a sociable day and you should make great play of your ability to bring people together. Prospects for those in the property market are distinctly better than average but, as usual, your planning has to be perfect.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The various relationships between Mars, Mercury, Venus and Jupiter are perfectly optimistic in their inclinations, and should suit you down to the ground. This is a time to get on with your favourite tasks, to exchange information, make short trips and generally chase your special ambitions.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your particular brand of sensitivity is one we could all learn from. Powerful emotional alignments suit your mood and may encourage you to put yourself on the line as far as one special relationship is concerned. You'll need all the courage and confidence at your disposal.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Slowly but surely you ought to be reassuring partners of your loyalty and dedication. The lesson to learn at the moment is that partnerships must be worked at. This simple truth is quite compatible with the fun, pleasure and enjoyment that come from special associations.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Other people hold the key. It doesn't matter whether your speciality is a working partnership, a romantic liaison or just friendship in general. All that is important is that you open your heart. Once you do that, then other people may respond in the ways that you always hoped they would.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
What you can do now is take a much firmer line with children. You should also realise that there are many chores to be completed and tasks to be done, even if you are in the mood for a day off. Your best approach is to call in a long-forgotten favour.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
As the Moon moves to and fro between challenging regions of your chart and harmonious ones, the chances for romantic happiness improve. You should seize the opportunity to enjoy yourself, regardless of whether your interests are high-brow or low.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Once again, home and family affairs occupy your attention. It may be a day to indulge in your favourite practical tasks, or to enjoy the company of your favourite relations. Friendly communication with everyone is the top theme for the next twenty-four hours.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
There is a great temptation to talk about subjects of which you know nothing. If you can get away with a bluff, do so by all means. On the other hand, if facts are important, you may care to get a second opinion. That's especially the case if you're risking your own cash.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The time has come to clear the decks, as I think you know. As long as you have major personal matters in hand, you may indulge a financial whim. If spending plans are your top priority, then it looks as if frivolities may be a better buy than necessities.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There are so many thought-provoking planetary patterns at the moment, but the dominant mood is emotional. My hope is that we will see the very best of your caring, compassionate sensitivity. My concern is that you may be a little too ready to build molehills into quite unnecessary mountains.

Drop chemical pesticides, adopt natural farming: Chouhan to ryots

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE future of farming lies in moving away from chemical pesticides and adopting sustainable, science-driven alternatives, Union Agriculture and Farmers Welfare and Rural Development Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan said on Friday. He was speaking during his visit to the ICAR–National Bureau of Agricultural Insect Resources (NBAIR) and ICAR – National Institute of Veterinary Epidemiology and Disease Informatics (NIVEDI), where he reviewed research activities and interacted with farmers.

Chouhan reiterated that Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision is not only to make India self-reliant in food production but also to ensure that farming becomes a profitable profession.

"We are already Atmanirbhar (self-reliant) in wheat and rice, and our basmati exports are strong. The challenge now is to increase farmers' incomes while safeguarding their health and the environment. We cannot compromise on anything that harms farmers," he said.

Highlighting the struggles of cultivators, the Union minister pointed out that crops like sugarcane suffer from red rot and stem borer infestations, while cotton farmers in Coimbatore are battling pests such as the pink bollworm, leading to less than 50% production in Bt cotton.

The minister also asked the institute to prepare a white paper on alternatives to pesticides, including the use of biopesticides, microbial solutions, and RNA-based technologies, which could both protect crops and ensure higher yields without harming beneficial organisms. "If we adopt these methods, the cost of cultivation will come down and farmers' profits will increase," he added.

During the visit, Dr SN Sushil, Director of ICAR-NBAIR, briefed the minister on ongoing research, including projects on double-stranded RNA for virus resistance, and the development of biopesticides to reduce pest load. The director acknowledged that while central laboratories and state units are engaged in bio-pesticide work, maintaining quality remains a challenge. To address this, he proposed agricultural universities should establish bio-resource centres to provide farmers with "nucleus cultures", training, and technical guidance.

HC upholds premature transfer of tahsildar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court upheld the premature transfer of Bangarpet tahsildar to the office of the Deputy Commissioner of Kolar, with the approval of the Chief Minister.

The transfer was made following a letter written by the local MLA to the Revenue Minister stating that the tahsildar would not attend office in time and he is not responding to the grievances of the public, which the local public have complained to the MLA.

Rejecting the contention of the tahsildar S Venkateshappa that a premature transfer, that too without holding an inquiry into the complaints, would amount to punishment, the division bench of Justice S G Pandit and Justice K V Aravind said the transfer at the instance or recommendation of an MLA itself would not vitiate the transfer. Dismissing the petition filed by Venkateshappa, the Bench said it is the duty of the representative of the people to request the transfer of a public servant when the people express their grievances before him, and the transfer is not a condition of service, but it is an incidence of service, as held by the Supreme Court.

The Bench said, no doubt, the transfer and posting of the petitioner is premature. However, it is seen that the local MLA addressed the letter for transfer. The Supreme Court made clear that a transfer on the recommendation of MLA, by itself, would not vitiate the transfer. The petitioner alleged that the MLA threatened him with transfer after certain differences arose between them in the meeting of the Bagar Hukum Committee held on November 28, 2024.

CM SAYS STATES NEED COMPENSATION FOR 5 YRS AFTER GST REJIG

Non-BJP states seek levy on sin, luxury goods

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah, who also holds finance portfolio, has demanded that the rationalisation of GST rates must be supported by a robust revenue protection framework for states for at least five years.

On Friday, representatives of eight non-BJP ruled states met in New Delhi to chalk out a consensus draft ahead of the Centre's announcement regarding rationalisation of GST rates. The draft seeks to ensure reforms that are both fair and sustainable.

The draft, which will be placed before the GST Council, urged for a supplementary levy on sin and luxury goods besides a guaranteed compensation mechanism for the states at least for five years.

After attending the meeting in New Delhi, Revenue Minister Krishna Byregowda said the state is for rationalisation of GST rates, ease compliance and reducing the burden on the people. He said: "But such reforms must be accompanied by a robust framework that protects the fiscal interests of the states. Without this, states will find it difficult to sustain welfare and development programmes, and a serious weakening of their financial autonomy."

He recalled that the opposition leaders had consistently objected to the faulty implementation of GST in 2017 and have always demanded rationalisation of rates. Even within the GST Council, states have repeatedly pressed for rationalisation, always with the caveat that the revenue interests of states must be safeguarded, he said.

The minister added that Karnataka too has raised this issue in multiple Council meetings.

"GST is a joint responsibility. It is founded on equal responsibility and respect for states and Centre. For the sake of endurance and stability of GST, the Centre and states must work together. This requires states to be taken into confidence and their concerns addressed adequately. We expect the central government to respond constructively and positively, engage with states in good faith in the true spirit of cooperative federalism", he said.

"Karnataka has already been subjected to discrimination in the devolution of funds from the Union Government, suffering an annual shortfall of nearly Rs 25,000 crore. Any further erosion of GST revenues will only compound this injustice and directly affect our capacity to deliver on the promises of development and welfare", he warned.

K'taka Cong leaders join Rahul's 'Vote Adhikar Yatra' in Bihar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a powerful show of North-South political convergence, Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah — the OBC icon from the South — and top Congress leaders from the state took to the streets of Bihar alongside Leader of the Opposition in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi on Friday, lending weight to the party's 'Vote Adhikar Yatra', a nationwide fight against voter suppression and democratic backsliding. "It was exhilarating to meet the people of Bihar who joined the padayatra in such large numbers," said Congress Chief Whip in Council Saleem Ahmed.

The Congress delegation from Karnataka packed serious political heft, with ministers G Parameshwara, Satish Jarkiholi, M C Sudhakar, Zameer Ahmed Khan, KJ George and former AICC general secretary BK Hariprasad walking alongside local leaders in the Gopalganj leg of the yatra. Also present were the CM's son and MLC Dr Yathindra Siddaramaiah, Political Secretary Nazeer Ahmed, and legal advisor A S Ponnanna.

Hariprasad said, "Karnataka's top brass joining hands with Bihar Congress sends a clear message — voter suppression is not just a local issue, it's a national crisis. This inter-state support bolsters the INDIA bloc's image of unity ahead of the 2025 Bihar Assembly elections."

Rahul had cited shocking irregularities in Karnataka's Mahadevapura constituency — over 1 lakh manipulated votes — drawing direct parallels to the ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR) in Bihar. Karnataka leaders echoed concerns that such "silent deletions" are part of a systemic assault on democracy. With Karnataka's proven campaign machinery from their 2023 state victory, Congress hopes to inject new energy into Bihar's grassroots network, supercharging volunteer participation and drawing larger crowds.

Hariprasad said, "Karnataka's leaders didn't just walk the talk — they talked performance. Welfare schemes and social justice successes back home are being showcased as a counterpoint to what they allege are BJP's anti-democratic tactics."

BJP, JDS slam Cong over vote theft claims after Siddu's 'cheating' remark

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STATE BJP and JDS leaders on Friday hit out at the Congress for its campaign against alleged vote theft, stating that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah himself had admitted that the Congress won the Koppal Lok Sabha seat in 1991 by resorting to electoral fraud.

Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka said Siddaramaiah himself had admitted that he was defeated in the 1991 Lok Sabha elections due to "cheating". Ashoka was referring to Siddaramaiah's remarks on Thursday that he lost the 1991 Lok Sabha elections because of "cheating". He had contested as Janata Dal candidate then. Congress candidate Basavaraj Patil Anwari had defeated Siddaramaiah.

Ashoka said Siddaramaiah should clarify on the alleged ballot rigging by the Congress in previous elections. Ashoka said not just the 1991 Lok Sabha elections, Siddaramaiah should also issue a clarification on former Congress leader CM Ibrahim's statement about purchasing 3,000 votes during the Assembly election in Badami constituency. Siddaramaiah contested from Badami in 2018.

Meanwhile, BJP IT cell incharge Amit Malviya slammed Siddaramaiah and said, "The irony is so thick you could cut it with a knife. Siddaramaiah is in Bihar for a 'Vote Adhikar' rally — marching with the same Congress he once accused of electoral fraud in the 1991 Koppal Lok Sabha polls against Basavaraj Patil Anwari."

Siddaramaiah cried 'vote chori' because he lost on ballot papers. "Now, Rahul Gandhi is crying wolf about 'electoral fraud' only because people of India have decisively thrown the Congress out of power through the democratic process and the unhackable EVMs," he said.

Malviya said, "This isn't about democracy; it is about a family business that has lost its relevance. The 'Vote Adhikar' rally is a masterclass in hypocrisy and a pathetic attempt to delegitimize the very democratic process that has shown them their true place."

'VOTE THEFT IS IN CONG DNA'

Taking to social media, JDS leaders said Siddaramaiah had openly admitted to electoral fraud in the 1991 Lok Sabha elections. The CM has replied to Rahul Gandhi's vote theft allegation. "Vote theft is in the DNA of the Congress," the leaders stated.

Clarify stand on idol worship, BJP tells Banu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

LEADER of Opposition in the Legislative Assembly R Ashoka said on Friday that Mysuru Dasara is a Hindu festival and not a cultural programme.

Opposing the decision to invite writer Banu Mushtaq to inaugurate the Dasara celebrations, Ashoka accused the Congress government of turning the state festival into a political event.

Addressing reporters here, Ashoka said before the inauguration of Dasara, there will be gou pooja/Nandi pooja. "Muslims do not believe in worshipping idols. Let Banu clarify that she has no objection to offering pooja to idols," he said.

Minister Zameer Ahmed should also issue a clarification regarding his stand on worshipping idols, Ashoka said.

He said BJP will fight to protect the sanctity of Chamundeshwari temple in Mysuru. He alleged that some "urban naxals" have joined hands with the Congress government to disturb communal harmony.

Slamming Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar for stating that Chamundeshwari temple is not a property of Hindus, Ashoka said, "Will this government remove the archaks offering pooja at the temple and recruit mullahs or priests? This is nothing but a conspiracy against the Hindus. Whenever the Congress comes to power, there will be murders of Hindu activists."

Ashoka said BJP, which is fighting for the cause of Dharmasthala, will take up this cause as well. "We will launch a campaign to save Hindu temples in the coming days. The Congress government is insulting our culture and tradition," he added.

NOTHING WRONG IN BANU TAKING PART IN CHAMUNDI PUJA: CHIEF IMAM

Amid the political storm over the state government inviting Booker Prize winner Banu Mushtaq to inaugurate the Mysuru Dasara, Maqsood Imran Rashadi, Chief Imam of Jamia Masjid, City Market, Bengaluru, said there is nothing wrong in the writer taking part in the event. The imam said just by taking part in religious events as an invitee, a person will not lose his/her religious identity. "Many non-Muslim MLA aspirants come to the masjid during elections and also offer namaz. This does not mean that they have become Muslims, and in the same way, if Banu Musthaq takes part in puja at Chamundi Hills, she will not become a non-Muslim," he said. The imam also clarified that Banu can participate in the event and stated that one must be cautious about religious sentiments to ensure that they are not hurt. To a question on 'fatwa' against Banu for agreeing to take part in Dasara and Chamundi puja, he said, "It is for the fatwa institutions to decide what is right or wrong. We can comment on fatwa only after consultation with such institutions." ENS

KHADER ADVISES CONG, BJP TO RESTRAIN FROM MAKING UNWARRANTED STATEMENTS

Karnataka Assembly Speaker U T Khader on Friday advised leaders of the ruling Congress and the opposition to maintain decorum and restrain from making unwarranted statements over the government's invitation to Booker prize winner Banu Mustaq to inaugurate the Mysuru Dasara. "We have to uphold the dignity of the Nada Habba. Everything that is constitutional and good for the country is acceptable," he said. ENS

Rajanna readies for show of strength in Delhi

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Tumakuru/Bengaluru

FORMER Cooperation minister K N Rajanna is preparing for a show of his strength in New Delhi as a last ditch effort to make a comeback to the state Cabinet. Thousands of his supporters cutting across party lines are likely to stage a protest at Jantar Mantar in October urging the Congress party high command to re-induct him into the cabinet. The move has been interpreted as Rajanna's plan to garner the support of the backward classes in Tumakuru before making his next political move.

Former Tumakuru City Corporation member Dhaniya Kumar, a supporter of Union Minister of State for Railways V Somanna, said under the backward classes forum they will stage protests until Rajanna gets justice. The protesters are likely to board train to New Delhi.

Rajanna has many options before him, say sources. He has a plan to join the BJP if the Congress party high command does not pay heed, they added.

He had already taken part in a procession sporting saffron shawl criticising the state government setting up an SIT to investigate the Dharmasthala case. Since the BJP has no strong base in Madhugiri assembly constituency, which Rajanna represents, he may also think of joining the JD(S) ahead of 2028 assembly polls if former PM HD Deve Gowda and Union minister HD Kumaraswamy give their nod. It may lead to a political polarisation in the old Mysuru region with some former JD(S) leaders retreating to the regional party as it is likely to go with a pre-poll alliance with BJP in the assembly polls, political analysts observed.

FIR AGAINST JDS X HANDLE FOR SPREADING FAKE NEWS

Bengaluru: The High Grounds police have registered an FIR against the JDS' official X social media handle for allegedly using a fake All India Congress Committee (AICC) letterhead to spread fake news claiming that Deputy Chief Minister and state Congress chief DK Shivakumar was expelled from the party. The post shared on X on August 26 stated: "On the recommendation of the Disciplinary Action Committee, Karnataka Pradesh Congress president DK Shivakumar is hereby expelled from the Congress party for his anti-party activities with immediate effect, subject to the approval of the AICC, dated August 25." Following the post, Congress spokesperson CM Dhananjaya filed a complaint with the High Grounds police on Friday, stating that the JDS had used a fake AICC letterhead to spread misinformation on social media. Police said a case has been registered and that the post is being verified. The post did not carry any signature but used a fake AICC letterhead, and the word 'Congress' was misspelled. Further investigation is under way, the police said.After the Congress pointed out the fake news on X, the JDS handle reposted it and wrote: "Relax Congress. The 'Congres' letter was a trap. Your leader wasn't expelled, just exposed. The 'Congres' letter was never real, but your reaction surely was. It's called satire. If satire hurts, maybe listen to your leader's lectures on freedom of expression. Nothing derogatory here, just festive vibes plus a friendly trap (sic)." ENS

SUJATHA BHAT MADE FALSE CLAIMS TO GET BACK ANCESTRAL PROPERTY: PROBE

DIVYA CUTINHO @Mangaluru

SUJATHA Bhat's claims that her daughter Ananya Bhat went missing after a trip to Dharmasthala in 2003 are found to be false as per the preliminary investigation conducted by the Special Investigation Team (SIT).

Sources told TNIE that Sujatha Bhat has failed to provide any documents to prove that she had a daughter named Ananya. "Claims of having a daughter named Ananya are false as per the preliminary investigation. The investigation so far suggests that her complaint was false. She has named a person who she claims pressurised and lured her into getting back her ancestral property or some compensation for the lost property. Her claims about house burnt near Mangaluru are not entirely true. A house where she was staying was indeed burnt, but accidentally," a credible source told TNIE.

The investigating officer (IO) in the case has been questioning Sujatha Bhat for the last four days. The SIT has seized Sujatha Bhat's mobile phone and collected crucial documents related to the case. More evidence needs to be gathered to corroborate the claims, the source said.A 50-page statement report has already been prepared based on investigation done so far, the source added.

Provide security to Sujatha, women's panel writes to SIT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka State Women's Commission has written to the chief of the Special Investigation Team probing the Dharmasthala alleged mass burial case, seeking protection for Sujatha Bhat, who claimed that she is the mother of one Ananya Bhat who went missing in Dharmasthala in 2003.

In the letter, commission chairperson Nagalakshmi Chaudhary stated that for the past two weeks, a few media houses have been continuously following Sujatha and pressuring her to give statements, causing her severe mental distress. She was also defamed and subjected to late-night visits to her residence for video recordings, where she was allegedly made to give contradictory statements. These were later broadcast in a manner that misleads the investigation and further adds to her distress.

The commission urged the SIT to immediately provide security to Sujatha, ensure appropriate arrangements for her to submit her complaint without fear, and send a report to it.

SIT INTENSIFIES PROBE

Mangaluru: Special Investigation Team (SIT) chief DGP Pronab Mohanty arrived in Belthangady on Friday as investigation into the mass burial allegations intensified. Sujatha Bhat, who has claimed that her daughter Ananya Bhat had gone missing from Dharmasthala, recorded her statement on Friday too. Meanwhile, Sowjanya campaign activist Mahesh Shetty Timarodi appeared before Belthangady police and the SIT to record statements in connection with a case registered by Brahmavar police and also the burial allegations case. Another Sowjanya campaign activist Girish Mattannavar appeared before the SIT. Speaking to media persons later, he said he has provided details of alleged forgery of documents related to Unnatural Death Reports or mysterious deaths allegedly by the local administration in Dharmasthala village. Lawyer Jagadish also appeared for questioning at Belthangady station on Friday.

Prez, V-P, 26 members of GP dismissed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

IN a sweeping action against irregularities, the state government has dismissed the president, vice-president and 26 members of the Shindikurabet Gram Panchayat in Gokak taluk, following proven charges of illegal property transfer. All 28 members have also been barred from contesting any elections for the next six years.

The Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Department issued the order, signed by Additional Chief Secretary Uma Mahadevan, after an inquiry confirmed that the panchayat had approved the transfer of property without due verification of records.

The violations date back to the general body meetings held on February 25 and March 25, 2022. In the presence of the Panchayat Development Officer, the members approved the transfer of an asset without proper scrutiny of land records. As a result, property in the name of Shanta Nagappa Potadar was unlawfully transferred to Ramachandra Danappa Potadar. Following the investigation, the charges were upheld.

Panchayat president Renuka Erappa Patil and vice-president Bhimappa Yallappa Baranali are among those dismissed. With the unprecedented dismissal of all its members, the Shindikurabet Gram Panchayat now stands dissolved.

C'magaluru limits entry of vehicles from September 1

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

BEGINNING September 1, tourists heading to Mullayanagiri, Seethalayanayagiri, Sri Guru Dattatreya Bababudan Swamy Dargah, and Manikyadhara will face strict vehicle entry limits as the Chikkamagaluru district administration moves to ease congestion on the narrow hill roads.

At a meeting chaired by the deputy commissioner, who is also the head of the District Tourism Development Committee and the District Disaster Management Authority, it was resolved to cap the number of vehicles to 600 in each slot per day. Two entry slots have been fixed: from 6 am to noon at parking spot 1, and from 1 pm to 6 pm at parking spot 2.

Only a fixed number of vehicles will be regulated per slot: 100 two-wheelers, 100 auto rickshaws, and 100 local yellowboard taxis. Tempo Travellers and 10-seater Toofan vehicles are capped at 50 each. Tourist cars, jeeps, and SUVs get the largest share, with a maximum of 300 allowed per slot.

Officials clarified that private buses and mini buses will not be allowed, citing the risk of accidents and traffic bottlenecks on the ghat sections. The restrictions also apply to vehicles belonging to tourists staying in homestays, resorts, and other accommodations near the sites. The tourism department has made online booking and payment of the entry fee mandatory. Tourists must complete the process through the official district website.

Declining standards of debate in legislative bodies a concern: Birla

Urges lawmakers of the country to riseabove party lines on issues of nat'l interest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bhubaneswar

LOK Sabha Speaker Om Birla on Friday expressed concern over the declining standards of debate, dialogue, language and decorum in the Parliament and state legislatures.

Inaugurating the national conference of chairpersons of Committees on Welfare of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes of Parliament and state Assemblies here, the Lok Sabha Speaker urged the lawmakers of the country to rise above party lines on issues of national interest.

Expressing anguish on the decline in the number of sittings of legislatures and disruptive behaviour of members in legislative bodies of the country, Birla said the decline in the level of discussion and dialogue in the House was a serious matter of concern for the country.

He emphasised that in such circumstances, the role of legislative committees assumed great significance. "A unique strength of these committees lies in their ability to function beyond partisan politics, fostering a shared approach and collective vision. Parliamentary committees promote equality, transparency and innovation by generating valuable policy insights and feedback on governance," he added.

Highlighting the importance of the committees, Birla described them as the backbone of parliamentary democracy. The LS Speaker said there is a need for effective utilisation of government funds and robust monitoring mechanisms to ensure that welfare schemes truly reach and empower the marginalised sections of society.

Stating that substantial public resources are allocated each year toward social welfare initiatives aimed at uplifting SCs, STs and other marginalised sections, Birla said these schemes should be implemented in a timely manner.

Recalling BR Ambedkar's vision of an India where SCs, STs and marginalised sections would live with dignity, respect, he said this vision has taken concrete shape over the decades.

'Rice exports may offset losses due to tariff blow'

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

INDIA'S export economy has been shaken by Washington's sudden imposition of punitive tariffs of up to 50 per cent on Indian goods. With marine products, textiles, gems, automobiles and electronics caught in the crossfire, nearly Rs 7.25 lakh crore worth of shipments are in the grey zone. Economists warn of a potential Rs 48,000-crore loss this year, shaving as much as 0.6% off GDP growth. But even as the gloom deepens, commodities experts see a ray of hope: rice exports, considering there is rice stock available.

India shipped a staggering Rs 83,000 crore worth of rice globally last year, though only Rs 3,200 crore went to the US. Experts say that with abundant domestic stocks, easing restrictions on rice exports could be a quick, high-impact move to soften the tariff blow.

"India has surplus of rice. Whatever we don't need domestically, we must export," said Prof. Govind Rao, noted economist and member of the 14th Finance Commission. But he cautioned that reforms must back this strategy: "Our agricultural universities must help boost productivity and develop high-yielding, profitable varieties." Former ISEC director Prof. RS Deshpande said, "Rice exports can offset losses in marine and textile sectors. Demand is strong in Western Europe, West Asia and Africa."

Marine products, especially shrimp, face tariffs exceeding 58%, wiping out India's edge against Ecuador. The sector fears a Rs 600-crore hit and 20% slump in volumes. Textiles stands to lose up to Rs 75,000 crore, threatening nearly a million jobs.

TRUMP'S TARIFFS HIT TN SEAFOOD EXPORTS

Thoothkudi: The Tamil Nadu seafood exporters are in a fix as American buyers have begun cancelling the ordered consignments that are in transit, with the US President Donald Trump's tariff on Indian goods, which took effect on August 27. The frozen seafoods like vannamei shrimps, squid, and octopus are largely exported to the US from Thoothukudi. ENS

Man held for raping student

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI
@ Yadgir / Kalaburagi

POLICE arrested the main accused who allegedly raped a 17-year-old student of a residential school in Shahapur taluk, who delivered a baby boy in the washroom of the school hostel on Wednesday. Yadgir SP Prathwik Shankar told TNIE on Friday that the accused Bharamanna, the girl's neighbour in her village, had raped her about nine months ago.

Bharamanna (29), who is married and has a child, has been booked under the POCSO Act, as well as the Prevention of Atrocities Act, the SP said. Social Welfare department Deputy Director Chennabasava said the competent authority suspended the school hostel warden Geeta Salimani, principal Basamma, science teacher Narasimha Murthy and physical education teacher Sridhar. Kaveramma, the staff nurse on outsourced basis, was relieved from service, Chennabasava said.

The department has written a letter to the authority to appoint a science teacher and staff nurse, and arrangements have been made to appoint an in-charge principal and warden, he said. Yadgir District Health Officer Dr Mahesh Biradar said Kaveramma was serving as staff nurse with the National Health Mission on contract basis, and without intimating the health department, had joined as staff nurse at the residential school run by the social welfare department in Shahapur taluk.

On getting information that an FIR had been lodged against Kaveramma, the health department terminated her from service at the National Health Mission. The Yadgir DC and SP visited the hospital in Shahapur where the girl was admitted after giving birth, and both she and the child are healthy, sources said.

SC rejects plea against use of temple land for building college

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday declined to entertain an appeal against the Madras High Court's verdict allowing the Tamil Nadu government to utilise Sri Somanathaswamy Temple's land on lease for building a government college in Kolathur in Chennai.

A bench of Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta rejected a plea filed by T R Ramesh against the High Court's division bench judgment of February 20, 2025.

The issue of use of temple land by the state for building educational institutes in Tamil Nadu has been a political 'hot potato', with the DMK government defending the move and opposition parties slamming the government for allegedly misusing temple funds and resources gifted by the faithful for non-religious activities.

The Madras HC bench in October 2024 had upheld a single judge's order which stated that the proposed long-term lease of 2.50 acres of land belonging to Sri Somanathaswamy Temple in Kolathur to Sri Kapaliswarar Temple in Mylapore for 25 years to establish an Arts and Science College was meant for running a college and, thus, the object being a benevolent one, the petitioner can submit his written objections or suggestions against such proposed lease before the Commissioner, Hindu Religious and Charitable Endowments (HR&CE) Department.

The petitioner, Ramesh, had challenged the notification issued on September 03, 2024, by the Commissioner of HR&CE Department, claiming it was done in violation of Section 34 of the Tamil Nadu HR&CE Act, 1959 and Rule 2 of the Alienation of Immovable Trust Property Rules, 1960.

After hearing senior advocates Haripriya Padmanabhan and Jaydeep Gupta for the petitioner and the respondents, respectively, the bench said, "We are not inclined to interfere with the impugned judgment/order of the High Court. Accordingly, the Special Leave Petition is dismissed."

In its plea, the petitioner contended that the notification did not provide any details regarding the amount of rent fixed or the manner in which the rent would be utilized for the benefit of the Sri Somanathaswamy Temple.

Suspension of additonal PCCF not valid, says CAT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Central Administrative Tribunal (CAT) on August 25 issued orders stating that the suspension of Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests R Gokul is not valid after the expiry of 30 days from the date of suspension. The tribunal directed the government to reinstate the Indian Forest Service officer immediately. The CAT also made it clear that the State government will be free to take appropriate steps regarding the inquiry, etc.

The order was uploaded on the CAT portal on August 28. Following orders, Gokul reported to duty before the Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) on August 28, seeking a posting with the CAT order enclosed.

Explaining the next course of action, a senior forest official, seeking anonymity, said: "The government now has two options -- either reinstate him in the same post, abiding by CAT order, or approach the High Court as it did in the recent case of a senior IPS officer, challenging the order. The decision to demote him was hasty. The government was not pleased with Gokul approaching the CBI."

While Forest, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre was not available for comment, his office communicated that a meeting will be held on Saturday to decide the next course of action.

In July, the state government had approached the Karnataka High Court, challenging the CAT order to reinstate IPS officer Vikash Kumar Vikash, who was suspended after 11 people died during RCB's IPL 2025 victory celebrations outside Chinnaswamy Stadium in Bengaluru.

Gokul, who was posted as Director General, Environment Management and Policy Research Institute (EMPRI), challenged the government order suspending him, pertaining to denotification of 443.6 acres of land granted to HMT, situated in Peenya Jalahalli plantation, without obtaining approval from the minister or cabinet.

The state government on June 4, 2025, under Rule 3(1)(a) of the All India Service (Discipline and Appeal) Rules, 1969, had suspended Gokul. The CAT, in an order, noted that the State government order has not been approved by the Central government till date, as the time for sharing details with the Central government had lapsed, and the Centre had found no reason for confirmation of the suspension.

Marking a copy to the Deputy Commissioner and Chief Executive Officer of Zilla Panchayat of Chamarajanagar for information and suitable action to address the issues highlighted in the report, Justice Phaneendra directed them to furnish a report on action taken by September 30. A copy of the order was also marked to the district minister for suitable action.

In the order passed to register a suo motu case on Friday, Justice Phaneendra stated that the High Court had ordered that burial grounds be provided in all villages and towns across the state. Accordingly, it is the duty of officials to provide a burial ground to the Bhovi community in Chamarajanagar, and failure to do so or not showing the place earmarked for the purpose amounts to dereliction of duty on the part of the officials concerned.

It is the duty and responsibility of officials, and failure to provide a burial ground amounts to maladministration under Section 2(10) of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act, Justice Phaneendra said, highlighting the verdicts of the apex court on performing final rites of deceased persons with dignity and respect.

The TNSE report had stated that with no dedicated burial ground for the community, Bhovi families are forced to wait for hours to conduct the final rites.

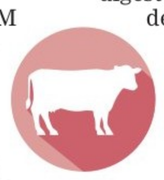
Ravi, who lost his mother, and his family members had to wait for five hours recently because the Devanga community's burial ground gates were locked, and they had to seek permission to complete the last rites by 5pm.

Ear infection among cattle worries farmers around B'luru

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

DAIRY farmers from Ramanagara and Kolar, around Bengaluru Urban district, are facing a new challenge as their cattle are developing otitis (an ear infection), which has become a cause for concern.

This has directly affected milk production as infected cows are not feeding properly. The State Animal Husbandry Department, along with Bangalore Milk Union Ltd (BAMUL) and Veterinary College, Bangalore of Karnataka Veterinary Animal and Fisheries Science University, are jointly studying the symptoms.



Prof Veeregowda BM from the Veterinary College told TNIE that the infection leads to pus formation in the ears of cows. Most of the cattle are infected in the left ear. The affliction affects nerves, leading to staggering gait, lack of coordination, discharge from the ear and nostrils, sleeping on one side and other symptoms, he added.

Cows find it difficult to eat or digest and a few have starved to death. It was noticed that the cattle that were affected last year have been infected again. The yield of milk has reduced to half among infected cattle.

This is the third year that the otitis outbreak has been reported. It is being seen only in Bengaluru's neighbourhood, especially Anekal, Kanakapura, Sarjapur, Srinivasapura, Mulabagl, Ramanagara, Kolar and surrounding areas. The infection is noticed during July to October coinciding with the rainy season. This year, however, it has become contagious. There have been no cases of human infection, he added.

The joint team is studying whether the disease is from the soil or water or because of ticks or flies. "Our team, comprising of Dr T Chandrashekar from AH & VS, and scientists Doctors Shivashankar, Mamatha and Chandrashekhar from IAH&VB, tentatively found the mycoplasma with secondary bacterial causes, and advised anti-mycoplasma therapy. This is working for cattle with initial symptoms," he added.

P Srinivasu, Director, Animal Husbandry and Veterinary Services Department, said they have started treatment as advised by the expert panel and the disease is under control.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

FACTORS THAT BUOYED Q1 GDP GROWTH NOT ASSURED Q2 ONWARDS

INDIA'S real GDP grew 7.8 percent in Q1 of 2025-26, hitting a five-quarter high. The latest print beat the RBI's projection of 6.5 percent by 130 basis points and tossed aside market consensus, which assumed growth to have slowed in Q1. The higher-than-expected GDP number comes just when India is engaged in an intense tariff tussle with the US and amid Donald Trump's intemperate remark that India's economy was 'dead'. In this backdrop, the robust Q1 data confirms that our macroeconomic fundamentals are indeed strong. That said, we may have to hold the jubilation as analysts reason that the economic vigour is not entirely due to higher national output. For one, it comes against a low base last year and because lower subsidy payments pushed up the headline GDP number. Moreover, the economy was resilient in Q1, when the going was good for the proposed India-US trade deal. But as soon as Q2 began, the trickle of bad news on the tariff front started.

It means the impact of tariffs may show up in Q2 and could be pronounced from Q3 onwards in case India fails to strike a deal. The thirds quarter could even end with a whimper, as sectors like auto are raising concerns about delayed festive sales with customers waiting for lower GST rates to kick in before Diwali. Meanwhile, Q1's better-than-expected performance will likely bump up the full-year GDP forecast unless the US trade tariffs deliver more nasty surprises. For now, it's estimated that tariffs will likely drag India's growth potential by 30-40 bps, though analysts fear the final dent in national output could be much higher. Moreover, Q1's rebound in economic activity was driven by easing food and energy prices, lower interest rates, rising investments, and higher net tax collections—and not all of them are assured to hold in Q2 and thereafter.

As for sectoral performance, while services have finally come around, it is unclear whether it can sustain the momentum. The same holds true for the manufacturing and construction sectors, which too saw handsome growth in Q1, followed by agriculture, which turned in a decent performance. Lastly, government expenditure continues to drive growth, as private consumption and investments are still punching below their potential, and needs to move other muscles to achieve broad-based growth.

INCENTIVISE PVT SECTOR IN N-POWER GENERATION

INDIA is eyeing to substantially increase nuclear power in its total energy mix. But while aiming at achieving 100 gigawatts of installed nuclear power capacity by 2047, it's at just about 8.8 GW, or less than 2 percent of the total power generated now. India wants to tilt the balance in its energy mix to shrink the carbon footprint. However, initial project costs of setting up and running a nuclear power plant are high, which discourages private sector participation. And enough effort is not made to dispel worries about its safety.

Currently, India has eight nuclear plants with 25 operational reactors; 11 more reactors are under construction. The Nuclear Power Corporation of India and National Thermal Power Corporation have signed an agreement to jointly develop nuclear power facilities. The venture, named Ashvini, will function within the existing legal framework of the Atomic Energy Act 1962 (amended in 2015) and will build, own, and operate nuclear power plants, including the upcoming 4x700 MW pressurized heavy water reactor (PHWR) at the Mahi-Banswara Rajasthan Atomic Power Project.

The Union government also introduced the Nuclear Energy Mission to enhance domestic nuclear capabilities by promoting private sector participation and accelerate the deployment of advanced technologies like small modular reactors and 'Bharat small reactors' (BSRs). While BSRs are 220-MW PHWRs to be operated as power plants dedicated to particular industries, the SMRs developed by the Bhabha Atomic Research Centre, of 30-300 MW capacity, will enable retiring coal-based power plants to meet power needs in remote locations. These are expected to be scalable and cost-effective alternatives to the conventional, large nuclear reactors, albeit with private sector participation.

However, apprehensions prevail among private players, particularly from the Civil Liability for Nuclear Damage Act, 2010 (CLND Act) holding plant operators and equipment suppliers liable for damages in the event of an incident. The Act allows operators to seek "right of recourse" against suppliers if the incident occurred due to defective or substandard equipment or material supplied, keeping foreign technology suppliers at bay. While the memories of nuclear incidents are not lost on anyone, CLND and the Atomic Energy Act would need a relook to boost private investment in nuclear power projects. With clean energy security as the goal, India has much to gain if it clears the path for nuclear power's growth.

QUICK TAKE

NEED CLARITY ON E20

ANOTHER well-intentioned government policy is causing anxiety because of haphazard rollout. India had announced a shift to car fuel blended with 20 percent ethanol (E20) from 2025, aligned with the nation's stated climate goals. But there was little clarity on older cars that are built to run on 5 or 10 percent blends. Now that most of the country's 90,000-odd petrol stations are pumping only E20, it's causing confusion and friction at petrol pumps. When unleaded petrol was introduced in 1995, for which cars needed catalytic converters, the government had worked with car makers to introduce it. The next stop for clarity is the Supreme Court, which is scheduled to hear a plea on the matter next week.

US tariffs have disrupted global health supply chains. While we explore triggering emergency multilateral mechanisms, we must cultivate alternative equipment suppliers and pharma markets

GLOBAL HEALTH CATCHES COLD AS TRUMP RAINS TARIFFS

K SRINATH REDDY

Distinguished Professor, Public Health Foundation of India

SOURAV ROY

TWICE within this decade, which we are not even half way through, global health has been undermined by supply chain disruptions. First, it was the Covid pandemic that brought travel and trade restrictions. Now, it is a mercurial US president bombarding the world with trade tariffs. Travel bans did not prevent the SARS Co-V2 virus and its busy brood of variants from crossing borders but they limited the flow of personal protective equipment, vaccines and drugs to countries in need. High-income countries, which imposed restrictions or hoarded resources needed for an effective global response, paid a price when new virus variants emerged in countries with weakened health systems spread worldwide.

Now, Donald Trumps's tariffs too will recoil back on the American health system by disrupting supply chains of vaccines, drugs and medical equipment. They will also have ripple effects on the suppliers from other countries who have long provided these resources to American consumers at lower costs. Even as the rest of the world will redirect trade in these health service supplies to non-US markets, American manufacturing will experience a long delay before domestic capacity can be ramped up to a level that meets domestic needs without reliance on imports.

Currently, many American device manufacturers base their production units in other countries which have lower labour costs. Around 69 percent of the medical devices marketed in the US are manufactured outside that country. It is estimated that the American proposal to impose 60 percent tariffs on all products imported from China will affect prices of 13.6 percent of all medical devices currently sold in the US. China supplies respirators, masks and gloves needed for America's healthcare facilities. Enteral feeding syringes, which are not manufactured outside of China, will be subjected to a 245 percent tariff in the US.

Tariffs imposed on the US's neighbours too will boomerang. Canada is a supplier of low-cost prescription medications, while Mexico supplies syringes, diagnostic tools and surgical instruments. Medicines imported from Canada in 2024 amounted to $8.4 billion. While US consumers will need to pay higher prices for these imports, the neighbours will be hurt too. Deprived of an assured American market, Canadian pharmaceutical firms may see investments shrinking and shrivel as a result. Canada and Mexico will have to overcome the threat of job losses in industries which export to the US.

Even as the American administration aims to move the manufacturing of medical devices and drugs to the homeland, there will be a considerable time gap before the required scope and scale are achieved. Meanwhile, America's health system and consumers will have to pay a high price for imported drugs and medical equipment. Even when domestic capacity for pharmaceutical manufacturing is ramped up, higher labour costs in the US will keep drug and device prices higher than what India, China or Brazil can supply. Also, Trump's aversion to generic drugs may result in only feeble support for low-cost generic drug manufacture in the US. Trump appears to have hit this golf ball into a water hazard that will take many strokes to recover from.

Rising prices of drugs and devices in the US market will also have an impact on countries which depend on US supplies. Several African countries and some in Asia and Latin American were provided drugs and equipment by American suppliers funded by USAID's international programmes. With the dismantling of that agency, these countries will have to pay high prices for imports from the US or source them from other countries, which can provide less expensive products of similar kind.

Other tariffs imposed by the Trump administration, on goods unconnected to the health sector, will have negative effects too. Exports will decrease as American consumers shy away from higher prices of imported goods. That will result in job losses and lower export revenues. This will impact national revenues, leading to tighter national budgets and lower allocations to health services as part of government spending. Falling incomes will also impair the ability of individuals to purchase healthcare or even nutritious food. South Africa, which was subjected to a whimsical and vindictive 30 percent tariff may have the resilience to withstand that assault but exporters in smaller African nations may have lost their exports when high tariffs were initially levied.

India has the resilience to counter this unwarranted economic assault. The domestic pharmaceutical industry has a large market, domestically as well as globally in non-US territories. As many countries are repelled by the aggressive ultra-nationalist posturing of the US administration, they will seek supplies from India. The European Union too is more likely to increase its trade with India. As political relations with China are showing signs of improvement, India will be the centre piece of BRICS and G-20. Economic cooperation among their member countries can build a bulwark against any tidal wave of Trump's tariffs.

Even as this happens, India has to steadfastly pursue the path to self reliance. We need to finance and facilitate innovation and expansion in the domestic pharmaceutical industry. Investment for revival of public sector capacity in pharmaceutical manufacture will be needed, so that we can initiate permissions for compulsory licensing when needed. The Doha Declaration provides several relaxations to the restrictions imposed by the World Trade Organization's TRIPS Agreement. These can be used in case of a public health emergency. The turbulence stirred by Trump—from intemperate tariffs to abrupt disengagement from the WHO—constitute a grave enough threat to be called a global public health emergency.

What may be the consequences if India imposes retaliatory tariffs? The government may choose not to do so, giving room for further negotiations till Trump gets over his tantrum. If India does respond with counter-measures, the cost of imports from the US will rise. They are mainly in the area of medical devices due to the rising burden of non-communicable diseases. India imported approximately $1.45 billion worth of medical devices from the US in 2023-24 (18 percent of all such imports). It's a critical dependence. Surely, it's time to step up domestic innovation and production, while engaging with alternative suppliers.

CONVERTING WEEDS TO WEALTH

MADHAVAN NARAYANAN

Senior journalist

REVERSE SWING

IS illegal immigration only of the human variety? The question popped up as I read of a threat to Assam's riverine grassland in the Dibru-Saikhowa National Park. The state now faces an influx of plant species that are hurting local ecologies, like unwanted human intruders being blamed for the ills of local economies.

As if the Brahmaputra floods and increasing human encroachment were not enough, the sensitive habitat that is home to feral horses is under threat from invasive species, according to a recent article in the Earth journal. The threats include the weed Parthenium hysterophorous and Mikania micrantha, a fast-creeping vine. On a single day this month, Assam's forest officials cleared more than 5 acres of harmful weeds, including 'Congress grass' (an intriguing moniker for Parthenium hysterophorous) in Morigaon district.

The names sound creepy enough. But my purpose here is to show it is time for botanists, environmentalists and agriculturists—not to speak of policymakers, economists and administrators—to think anew on how to turn environmental threats into social or economic opportunities. Down south in Kerala, h for hyacinth also spells harmful. Water hyacinth (Eichhornia crassipes) is common across India and is a green pest of sorts. But it's ubiquitous in the waters of god's own country. To the lay observer, the plant's green carpets across ponds and canals may look beautiful; but in an environmental sense, they are not.

In the Kuttanad lowland near Alappuzha, they are called the silent invaders of backwaters, thriving on man-made pollution. These infiltrators obstruct fishermen, choke irrigation channels and pose health challenges as mosquitoes breed easily in their company. The species, estimated to cover more than three-fourths of the area's water surfaces, may well inspire Malayalam filmmakers as a controversial metaphor for illegal immigrants.

But, like immigrants across the world, it depends on how you look at it. It turns out that some migrant species, like the entrepreneurial people who move to America, can create value and help the local economy. If you consider that scientists are discovering new plant species that deserve the attention of policymakers as well as farmers, we may be looking at new-age economics. That would be a reverse swing in reshaping the economy.

Scientists from Pune's Symbiosis University won a climate action challenge set up by the Elsevier Foundation in the Netherlands this year for their idea to convert water hyacinths into menstrual hygiene products. The $25,000 award is not a small amount for young scientists. A green start-up founded by a couple of young men from Assam turned water hyacinths into eco-friendly handmade paper. The government has also reported other such green product initiatives using water hyacinth under the Swachh Bharat mission.

In a deeper leap, a study at Bengaluru's Indian Institute of Science into the nuances of agricultural growth has dug up a

EXPRESS

Invasive plant species like water hyacinths can be seen as ecological problems. But like human immigrants, they can also help local economies. Scientists have shown how water hyacinths can be used to make various useful products. Their cleanup can also be an employment generator natural switch that could break down DELLA, a protein that inhibits plant growth. Such a scientific move led to high-yielding varieties of crops like wheat during the Green Revolution. In a world where botany meets artificial intelligence, we should be looking at more farmer-environmentalist-scientist collaborations.

Some years ago, a study in Assam revealed that among 18 invasive plants stifling the Kaziranga National Park was a vitamin-D-rich weed that wild boars loved to eat. It makes me wonder if this is another case of positive outcomes from seemingly negative weeds. There is a case to revamp India's anti-poverty programmes and panchayat raj practices to include labour-intensive cleaning up of habitats, including wastelands, wetlands, and grasslands, to remove weeds and boost afforestation. The late environmentalist Anil Agarwal, who co-founded the Centre for Science and Environment, had argued for afforestation-linked poverty-alleviation programmes decades ago.

The Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act has faced considerable criticism on its feeble efforts to create assets such as check dams, ponds, irrigation canals and tree cover. There is a clear opportunity to strengthen the programme by including environmental clean-ups and cultivation of village commons. This, of course, would need a revamp of the lacklustre panchayati raj system. If a government can build highways, why can't it build assets that strengthen the environment, which I call the 'original infrastructure'?

What is missing here is the demand-supply loop that builds any economic activity on a large scale. Most environmental habitats fall in the common or public sphere, which means they are nobody's property except of encroachers and well-intentioned government officials. What we need are clearer definitions and activities that bring private sector efficiency to places like grasslands and canals. Strangely enough, environmentalists tend to use the word 'community' in such initiatives, not realising that it is only commercialised economics that puts energy and scale into such activity. There is not much that volunteers or pilot projects can do.

Compared to manufacturing and other modern industries, there is a much weaker linkage between research, economics, and public policy in environment-related initiatives, though science and technology are showing us new frontiers. This is where we could do with clearer policy initiatives that bring farmers and environmentalists on the same page.

Ahead of meeting with President Xi Jinping on the sidelines of SCO summit in China, PM calls for 'stable, predictable, and amicable' bilateral relations with Beijing

India-China ties key to world economic order: Modi

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday reaffirmed the critical importance of strong India-China relations, highlighting their potential to foster regional peace, prosperity, and stability to the world economic order.

In an interview with Japanese daily Yomiuri Shimbun, Modi said India is ready to advance its bilateral ties with China from a long-term strategic perspective rooted in mutual respect, interest, and sensitivity.

"Given the current volatility in the world economy, it is also important for India and China, as two major economies, to work together to bring stability to the world economic order," Modi said, stressing the global stakes involved in their partnership.

His forthcoming visit to China for the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) summit, set for August 31 and September 1 in Tianjin, will be his first in seven years and is widely viewed as an opportunity to take their ties significantly forward amid global flux unleashed by Trump tariffs. Modi is set to hold bilateral talks with Chinese President Xi Jinping on the summit's sidelines.

"Stable, predictable, and amicable bilateral relations between India and China, the two largest nations on Earth, can have a positive impact on regional and global peace and prosperity," Modi said in the interview, echoing earlier remarks after meeting Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi in Delhi this month.

PM's articulation of stability and predictability signals a clear Indian intent to move beyond episodic conflicts toward a more managed and strategic relationship through trust- building.

His approach highlights a pragmatic realignment in India's foreign policy, balancing relations with China while simultaneously deepening ties with key partners like Japan. Modi's current two-day visit to Japan his stop before heading to China includes participation in the India-Japan Economic Forum and visits to factories producing cutting-edge technologies like the E10 Shinkansen bullet train, which India plans to procure.

The focus on infrastructure, innovation, and defence cooperation with Japan signals a broader strategy of diversified partnerships in Asia.

The timing of Modi's comment is significant against a backdrop of geopolitical turbulence: the ongoing Russia-Ukraine war, the Israel-Gaza conflict, and trade tensions triggered by the US's imposition of a 50% tariff on Indian goods. The SCO summit itself includes influential regional players such as Russia, Iran, Pakistan, and Central Asian states, positioning it as a critical platform for addressing security and economic challenges in Eurasia. In the interview, Modi spoke about the broader significance of India-China relationship.

"This is also crucial for a multi-polar Asia and a multipolar world. India is ready to advance bilateral relations from a strategic and long-term perspective on the basis of mutual respect, mutual interest and mutual sensitivity, and to enhance strategic communication to address our developmental challenges," he said.

Modi's emphasis on "multipolar Asia and world" ahead of the visit to China reflects India's vision for a global order that moves away from unilateral dominance and towards greater regional cooperation and balance of power. India and China, as the two fastest-growing economies and demographic giants, have a pivotal role to play in shaping this multipolar future. Modi's call for collaboration on stabilizing the world economy is a strategic appeal not just to China, but to the global community.

> Given the current volatility in the world economy, it is also important for India and China, as two major economies, to work together to bring stability to the world economic order
>
> PM Modi

New Delhi has been stressing on the fair, balanced and multipolar world order, including a multi-polar Asia along with reformed multilateralism both India see as imperatives for maintaining stability in the global economy.

However, Modi's message is not just about economics and geopolitics. It also signals a political readiness on the part of India to engage China with mutual sensitivity, acknowledging the complex history and ongoing challenges while seeking a pathway forward that are mutually beneficial and dictated by the demands of the changing world order.

PM in Tokyo: Natural partners to make world a better place

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA and Japan unveiled a sweeping vision for their bilateral ties, one that merges strategic trust with technological ambition, creating a blueprint for deeper cooperation across defense, innovation, mobility, health, and climate.

Modi articulated a shared aspiration for a "free, open, peaceful, prosperous, and rules-based Indo-Pacific," grounding it in the two democracies' longstanding mutual trust and shared values. With global geopolitics in flux rising tensions in the Indo-Pacific, economic realignment, and emergent technologies reshaping global power structures, India and Japan are positioning themselves as pillars of stability and innovation.

"We have shared concerns towards terrorism and cybersecurity. We also have shared interests in the areas of defence and maritime security. We have jointly decided to further strengthen our cooperation in the fields of Defence Industry, and Innovation," Modi said.

The announcement of the Next Generation Mobility Partnership (NGMP) stands as a central pillar in this relationship. By blending Japanese technological sophistication with India's engineering and human resource base, the two nations aim to co-create smart, resilient infrastructure. From AI-powered rail systems to energy-efficient shipbuilding, and from smart urban design to disaster-proof transport, this partnership has profound implications. Not only will it reduce logistical vulnerabilities, but it also strengthens India's strategic autonomy and industrial resilience, aligning with "Make in India for the World" vision.

In a major boost to space cooperation, Modi welcomed the agreement between ISRO and JAXA on the Chandrayaan-5 mission, describing it as a "symbol of humanity's progress beyond Earth." Beyond space, the two sides are also advancing quantum technologies, semiconductors, advanced computing, and AI.

India is cautious and exercising strategic autonomy, says expert

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

INDIA is demonstrating strategic autonomy in the face of US tariffs and is keeping its options open, if possible, to gain optimum benefits from China and the US, said Jayadeva Ranade, former member, National Security Advisory Board (NSAB), former additional secretary, Cabinet Secretariat, and President, 'Centre for China Analysis and Strategy' in an exclusive chat with TNIE.

Speaking about Prime Minister Modi's two day visit to Japan and China later this weekend - his first in seven years, to attend the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) summit, Ranade said that the PM's visit to Tokyo is very important as there is a lot of interaction between the two countries, meeting of minds and convergence of interests, energy cooperation and aerodynamics. "Japan is also unhappy at the way US President Donald Trump is looking at partnerships in the region. There is a growing concern in Tokyo on America's role if China steps up military action in Taiwan or South China Sea," said the former additional secretary.

Regarding Modi's visit to China to attend the SCO, Ranade said that the thaw in India-China ties had begun much earlier, with PM meeting President Xi Jinping last year in October on the sidelines of the BRICS summit in Kazan, which was followed by disengagement of troops at Depsang and Demchok in Eastern Ladakh.

"China continues to have strengthened its military presence along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) but there has been progress in talks between New Delhi and Beijing. In August on the invitation of NSA, Ajit Doval, China's Foreign Affairs Minister, Wang Yi visited India and co-chaired the 24th round of the dialogue on the boundary question. During his recent visit to India this month, he met EAM S Jaishankar and on his request to import fertilisers, rare earths and tunnel boring machines, Beijing gave its approval the next day. China has also called out America for its high tariffs on India, to convey to New Delhi that the US is not a dependable ally. Xi's announcement on three occasions that China will become a global leader by 2049 has unnerved America and they are concerned about Modi attending the SCO, which they view as a counter to NATO. With Peter Navarro (Trump advisor) calling the Ukraine conflict "Modi's war," and Scott Bessent (US Treasury Secretary) stating that at the end of the day the two countries will "come together," the tone of panic in Washington is clear," said Ranade.

Speculation on Roosevelt House sale

Did the US President Donald Trump ask Pakistan Army Chief Gen Asim Munir during his second visit to Washington, in August to consider selling the Roosevelt House at Park Avenue in New York to him? The hotel in NY belongs to the Pakistan International Airlines (PIA) and is said to have a huge real estate value of over one billion USD. America has paid huge amounts of rent to PIA to house deportees and refugees at the Roosevelt House raising concern among Americans. "Munir reportedly agreed to Trump's request and at a much lower offer price," said placed sources.

India, Japan Chandrayaan-5 pact for Lunar South Pole mission

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA and Japan have formalised a partnership on Chandrayaan-5, a joint lunar mission targeting the elusive and scientifically rich South Pole crater zones. The agreement was signed Saturday by the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) and the Japan Aerospace Exploration Agency (JAXA), coinciding with Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Tokyo.

Dubbed LUPEX (Lunar Polar Exploration), the mission aims to explore the lunar South Pole's Permanently Shadowed Regions—key to revealing volatile compounds such as frozen water, which may hold clues to lunar evolution and future space habitation. Under the arrangement, JAXA will launch the mission using its H3-24L rocket, carrying an Indian-made lunar lander equipped with a Japanese rover. ISRO will also deliver several scientific instruments aboard the lander to conduct in-situ analysis of surface and subsurface volatiles.

Reflecting on the collaboration, PM stressed its significance in an interview with The Yomiuri Shimbun: "I am glad that India and Japan are joining hands for the next edition of the Chandrayaan series or the LUPEX mission. This will contribute to deepening our understanding of the permanently shadowed regions at the lunar South Pole." He also highlighted the strategic benefits of the government-to-government space collaboration, saying, "Our G2G collaboration in the space sector, between ISRO and JAXA, is fostering a culture of cooperation between our industries and startups. This is creating an ecosystem where innovation flows both ways — from labs to launch pads, and from research to real-world applications. He expressed confidence in the combined scientific capabilities of both nations, stating the partnership will "push the boundaries of space science". "And, our partnership in space will not only expand horizons above us, but also improve lives around us," he added.

PM underlined the tangible impacts of space science, asserting that breakthroughs in this domain directly influence daily life.

No FSSAI norms yet for nutrition warning labels on packaged foods

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

AS the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) races against a Supreme Court deadline to finalise its recommendations for mandatory front-of-pack nutrition warning labels on packaged foods, a think tank working on nutrition has said they have designed a framework which will ensure the final policy is based on scientific evidence, not on commercial influence.

The framework, termed the Weightage Scale for Stakeholder Comments, was submitted to FSSAI by Nutrition Advocacy in Public Interest (NAPI), a think tank working on evidence-based nutrition policy.

The scale provides a clear methodology for the FSSAI's and the expert committee to evaluate inputs by prioritising their source and evidence-base, rather than their volume. It is based on global evidence and India's own health crisis.

NAPI's intervention comes amid growing concerns that the landmark policy aimed at combating India's epidemic of obesity and diabetes could be diluted by intense lobbying from the food and beverage industry, said NAPi's convenor, Dr Arun Gupta.

The SC has directed FSSAI to finalise the regulations within three months, ending mid-October. As per the SC orders, FSSAI has to analyse over 14,000 public comments on front-of-pack food labels (FOPL) to finalise its recommendations.

WEIGHTAGE SCALE

Proposed Weightage Scale assigns a value from 0-10 to stakeholders

Maximum weight (9-10/10) to be given to independent scientific evidence from institutions like ICMR, AIIMS

Higher weight (8/10) to be given to consumer rights organisations, World Health Organisation (WHO) &UNICEF

Low weightage(3-4) to be given to individuals & MSMEs

"The number 14,000 is a distraction; the key is to categorise, not count," said Dr Gupta, pediatrician, and former member of the PM's Council on India's Nutrition Challenges.

"The FSSAI is at crossroads. It can either be remembered as the regulator that empowered millions of Indians to make well-informed choices, or the one that capitulated to food corporations.

The proposed Weightage Scale assigns a value from 0 to 10 to different stakeholders.The maximum weight (9-10/10) is to be given to independent scientific evidence from institutions like Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), and national and global public health bodies or science publications.

Also, higher weight (8/10) is to be given to consumer rights organisations, World Health Organisation (WHO) and UNICEF. Public health experts said that low weightage (3-4) may be given to individuals and MSMEs.

'Want border wall to check illegal immigrants?'

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday in an observation asked the Centre whether it wanted to build a border wall like in the US to prevent illegal immigrants from entering the country.

The top court asked the Centre to apprise it about the standard operating procedures (SOP) adopted by the governments in deporting illegal migrants, especially to Bangladesh.

A three-judge bench of the apex court headed by Justice Surya Kant, and also comprising Justices Joymalya Bagchi and Vipul M Pancholi, was hearing a petition filed by the West Bengal Migrant Welfare Board (WBMWB) alleging detention of Bengali-speaking migrant workers on suspicion of being Bangladeshi nationals.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre, objected to the petition of WBMWB and questioned that why no aggrieved parties were present before the court.

"This court should not entertain such kind of petitions filed by these organisations and associations, which may be supported by some state governments. There are no aggrieved parties before the court. We know how some state governments thrive on illegal immigrants. Demographic changes have become a serious issue," he said.

The bench, however, told Mehta that it might be the reason that those who aggrieved were perhaps unable to reach the apex court for want of resources. But, Mehta said such "public spirited persons" (without referring to Bhushan) must help them in approaching the court besides helping people in the US where the issue over illegal immigration was big. Bhushan alleged Bengali speaking persons were being picked up and forcefully pushed into Bangladesh.

"This has very drastic consequences... sometimes BSF people say you run to the other side or we will shoot you. Similarly, the Border Guard of Bangladesh, also threatens and says if you don't run to the other side, they will shoot," Bhushan said.

Joshi, the petitioner, moved the top court seeking directions to implement the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) to women advocates enrolled with State Bar Councils/Bar Associations.

After hearing the plea, a two-judge bench of Justices B V Nagarathna and R Mahadevan issued notice to the Centre and the BCI seeking their responses.

● In Assam, Home Minister says Gandhi's politics of hatred would not take public life any higher ● SP chief joins Voter Adhikar Yatra in Patna

Apologise for 'abusing' PM, his mother: Shah

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday asked Congress leader Rahul Gandhi to apologise to Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his late mother for using alleged abusive language against them during the Congress' "Voter Adhikar Yatra" in election-bound Bihar.

Addressing a gathering after inaugurating the newly-constructed 'Brahmaputra Wing' of the Raj Bhavan in Guwahati, Shah said Gandhi's politics of hatred would not take public life any higher. "It is a matter of pride that 27 countries honoured Modi Ji by conferring their highest civilian award on him. Modi Ji is respected by the world, but in Indian politics, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi demonstrated the lowest level of his politics of hatred and negativity during his Ghuspaithiya Bachao Yatra," Shah said.

He censured the Congress leader for using alleged offensive words against the PM and his mother. He said the hate and negative politics that Gandhi started would take public life to the lowest level. Shah said Modi faced such attacks since the time he became the Chief Minister of Gujarat.

"Sonia Ji, Rahul Ji, Mani Shankar Aiyar, Digvijay Singh, Jairam Ramesh, Renuka Chowdhury – every Congress leader used abusive language against Modi Ji," the Home Minister said, adding that they called the PM "Maut Ka Saudagar," "Jehrila Saap," "Ravana," "Bhasmasura," "Virus." "What do the Congress leaders think?

Do they think they will get mandate by using such language? I want to tell them that the more they abuse Modi Ji, the bigger the lotus will bloom and touch the sky," Shah said.

Stating that elections are the soul of a democracy, he asked how a nation could be safe if infiltrators make way to the voters' list and pollute elections. "I want to tell Rahul Gandhi Ji that even if you have a little shame left in you, apologise to Modi ji, his late mother and the people of the country," Shah further said.

Earlier, he virtually inaugurated the ₹45-crore National Cyber Forensic Laboratory-Northeast at the Lachit Barphukan Police Academy in upper Assam's Dergaon from the premises of the Raj Bhavan. This is the second such lab in the country after the one in Delhi. The home minister also virtually inaugurated and laid the foundation for various development projects of the paramilitary forces, including housing complexes, barracks and hospitals.

Cong worker held for abusing PM, in judicial custody

A Congress worker, identified as Mohammad Rizvi alias Raja, was arrested Thursday for allegedly using abusive language for Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his late mother during Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's 'Voter Adhikar Yatra'. The arrest follows a complaint lodged at the Simri police station in this regard. He was produced in a court on Friday and subsequently sent to judicial custody for 14 days.

Clashes in Patna over derogatory remarks on Modi

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

VIOLENCE erupted during a protest march near the Congress office at Sadaquat Ashram in Patna on Friday after BJP and Congress workers clashed.

The march was being organised over the use of abusive language against PM Narendra Modi and his late mother by a man during Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's Voter Adhikar Yatra rally in Darbhanga on Wednesday.

Situation spiralled out of control after BJP workers forced their entry into the Sadaqat Ashram by opening the main gate. Congress workers retaliated, resulting in a free-for-all battle. Several people were injured and some vehicles parked inside the Congress office were damaged.

Bihar minister and senior BJP leader Nitin Nabin, who participated in the protest, claimed that the stir was peaceful, adding that those inside the Congress office had started hurling stones. "We are not scared of bricks or guns. We will take revenge for the insult to our mother," he warned.

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Friday said that people of Bihar have made it clear that they will not allow vote theft in their state. Addressing a huge gathering on the 19th day of the 'Voter Adhikar Yatra' in Siwan, Rahul directly asked the people, "Will you let your votes be stolen." They replied: "No".

Taking a swipe at PM Modi, Rahul said, "Once people of the country know about the reality of his (Modi's) winning the elections, they will start telling him their 'Mann Ki Baat'."

Expressing his gratitude to the people of Bihar for lending their support to the yatra and turning it into a mass movement against "election theft", the Congress leader said, "People of Bihar have made every Indian aware about it."

Referring to the revelations made in Mahadevapura in Karnataka, the Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha said that it was just a beginning and soon the vote theft across the country would be exposed at the national level.

He warned that the stealing of votes would be the beginning of snatching away the rights of the poor, dalits, minorities and the EBCs. He said that soon the Modi govt would take away their ration cards, land and all their rights.

He made the people remember how the Dalits were treated before the freedom of the country and the framing of the Constitution. He cautioned the public that the ultimate aim of the BJP is to finish and destroy the Constitution and deny the poor, the Dalits, the minorities and the EBCs their rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

Rahul was accompanied by LoP in the Bihar Assembly Tejashwi Prasad Yadav and other senior INDIA bloc leaders.

J&K to have limited role in Sept 9 V-P election

J&K will have limited participation in the V-P polls due to no representation in the Rajya Sabha as all its four seats in the House are lying vacant since February 2021. On February 15, 2021, former J&K CM Ghulam Nabi Azad and PDP MP Nazir Ahmad Laway completed their RS terms. The terms of two other MPs --- PDP MP Fayaz Ahmad Mir and BJP MP Shamshir Singh Manhas ended on February 10, 2025. Under constitutional provisions, the RS members are elected by legislative assemblies of states and UTs. However, since J&K was under direct central rule from June 2018, no new members could be chosen in absence of the Assembly.

Moitra slams Shah on B'deshi influx, BJP files police complaint

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

TMC MP Mahua Moitra has triggered a fresh political controversy with her remarks against Union Home Minister Amit Shah, accusing him of failing to check infiltration from Bangladesh and allegedly stating his "head should be cut off and put on the table."

The BJP, which was quick to hit back, slammed Moitra for her "distasteful and hate remarks" and wondered whether it was TMC's official stand. Speaking to reporters in West Bengal's Nadia district on the sidelines of an event on Thursday, Moitra alleged that the Union government was shirking its responsibilities on border security. The the authenticity of the video, however, couldn't be identified.

"They are repeatedly talking about infiltrators; but the border of India is protected by five forces, and those are the Home Ministry's responsibility," she said. Referring to PM Narendra Modi's Independence Day address, she remarked, "Standing at Red Fort, the PM himself said infiltrators are causing demographic changes. But even as he was saying this, his Home Minister was standing in the front row, smiling and clapping."

8 killed as massive cloudbursts rock U'khand

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

A series of devastating cloudbursts rocked Uttarakhand between Thursday night and Friday morning, claiming at least eight lives and leaving over a dozen people missing across Garhwal and Kumaon.

The natural calamities, exacerbated by incessant monsoon rains, triggered widespread destruction in the districts of Chamoli, Rudraprayag, Tehri, and Bageshwar, washing away homes, damaging infrastructure, and burying more than 35 cattle heads. The Himalayan states of Uttarakhand, Himachal Pradesh, and Jammu & Kashmir are grappling with the severe impact of monsoon-triggered cloudbursts and related natural disasters. Friday, in particular, proved to be a devastating for Uttarakhand, as reports of cloudbursts in different parts of the state caused widespread panic.

Torrential rains brought down massive debris, inundating several houses and severely damaging roads. Among the confirmed fatalities were two individuals in Dewal (Chamoli), two in Kapkot (Bageshwar), and one woman in Jakholi (Rudraprayag).

In a harrowing incident reported early Friday from Kanyali Kot Posari/Simoti village in Bageshwar district, a cloudburst washed away three houses, with several residents initially reported missing. An SDRF team, led by Sub-Inspector Santosh Parihar, swiftly reached the site. Local villagers had already rescued one injured person. During subsequent rescue operations, the SDRF team recovered two bodies. Search and rescue efforts are ongoing for three other missing individuals, involving local police, fire services, and NDRF.

Disaster management officials confirmed another major cloudburst in Chamoli district's Dewal block. Here, Tara Singh and his wife are reported missing, while Vikram Singh and his wife sustained injuries. Their home and cowshed were buried under debris, trapping an estimated 20 cattle. Chamoli District Magistrate Sandeep Tiwari confirmed the incident.

Roads in Dewal were extensively damaged, and areas like Tharali, Adibadri, and Karnaprayag also experienced heavy downpours.

Punjab, Himachal continue to reel under severe rainfall

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE flood situation in Punjab remained grim on Friday, as 836 villages and 1.10 lakh acres of standing crops across eight districts were affected. As many as 7,689 people have been evacuated and shifted to safe places. Meanwhile, heavy rain triggered fresh landslides and flash floods in five districts of Himachal Pradesh.

Further aggravating the situation, heavy rains have led to swelling of the Ghaggar River and the opening of floodgates at Sukhna Lake in Chandigarh. A flood alert has also been issued in Patiala also.

Now a drone has been pressed into service to deliver relief material to affected people in Dera Baba Nanak of Gurdaspur district, while amphibious ATOR (All Terrain Off Road) vehicles have been deployed to evacuate stranded villagers in the Ramdas area of Amritsar.

Chairing a high-level meeting to review the flood situation, Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann said that 14.11 lakh cusecs of water have been received in the river Ravi, the highest discharge the state has ever received. In Himachal, 380 tourists who were stranded in Sissu in Lahaul and Spiti have been evacuated. Jarange raises quota pitch amid CM olive branch

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumabi

MARATHA quota leader Manoj Jarange on Friday tore into the Maharashtra government describing it as more dangerous than the British. He claimed that the government had "blocked water and food supply" to the Maratha protestors. In contrast, CM Devendra Fadnavis expressed confidence in achieving a peaceful resolution through dialogue regarding the community's demand.

Jarange, who is on an indefinite protest, said that after their arrival at Azad Maidan in Mumbai, the Maratha community people were not getting even water and food also. He alleged that police forced many hotels and restaurant owners in South Mumbai and near Azad Maidan to shut down resulting protestors deprived from getting water and food also.

"If we treat badly to us then we will also treat you in same way. During political rallies across the Maharashtra, whenever and wherever rallies are there, we will cut their food and water supply. We are not against the government and not their enemy as well. We are here to press our demand in democratic way. Instead of helping us, government is troubling us. If government is ready to accept our demand, then we are ready to withdraw the protest and hunger strike," Jarange Patil said.

He said they are not asking reservations from OBC, but asking give the reservation to them whose Kunbi reference are found in old documents.

Meanwhile, Fadnavis said that in a democratic set-up, each one has the right to carry out a protest to press their demand, but while doing that, it should also be ensured that no untoward incident takes place. He said Jarange Patil has also urged the same and is hopeful that the people who are part of the protest will follow the same.

... meanwhile, Fadnavis calls for Maha restraint

Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis on Friday said in a democratic set-up, each one has the right to carry out a protest to press their demand, but while doing that, it should also be ensured that no untoward incident takes place. He said that Jarange Patil has also urged the same and is hopeful that the people who are part of the protest will follow the same.

"The Bombay High Court has given one day's permission for the protest at Azad Maidan; however, Jarange Patil has sought more days to continue his protest. However, the police and local administration will look into it and will deal with it positively. We are working as per the guidelines of the court, and the administration will also follow the same. We are abiding by the court directives now," Fadnavis said.

Livid over being blocked on social media, Gujarat man slits girl's throat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

THE brutal murder of a 20-year-old woman by a youth from Gandhidham over a social media block has sent shock waves across Gujarat's Bhuj.

The accused, her 22-year-old neighbour Mohit Siddhapara, slit the woman's throat outside her college hostel. She later succumbed to her injuries during treatment on Friday, sparking outrage across Kutch. Police have arrested Mohit and booked him for murder. A friend of him who tried to intervene in the incident also sustained injuries.

Mohit was reportedly enraged after the woman, a BCA student, blocked him on social media. He confronted her about it near the Sanskar school and college campus on the Airport Ring Road. The woman firmly told him she wanted no further contact or relationship with him. That was when Mohit pulled out a knife in a fit of rage and slashed her throat. A friend accompanying Mohit tried to stop him, but he was also stabbed in the back.

Mohit then left the girl and his wounded friend bleeding on the ground and fled the spot. Shocked passersby promptly alerted the college authorities, who immediately shifted both victims to Bhuj's GK General Hospital. Hours into the treatment, the woman succumbed to her injuries the following morning. As panic gripped the city, the police swung into action. By late night, the Bhuj A-Division police had Mohit in cuffs, adding murder charges to what was earlier a case of assault.

Investigators revealed that Mohit and the victim used to live in the same neighborhood in Gandhidham's Bharatnagar. The two were earlier in a relationship, they say. However, woman of late started distancing herself from him and also blocked his number. Unable to handle the separation, Mohit found out her whereabouts and attacked her fatally in broad daylight.

DySP Ravindra Singh Jadeja confirmed the chain of events, stating: "Yesterday, when the woman refused to speak to him, Mohit got enraged. After she died during treatment, we registered a case of murder."

UK removes tutor jobs at immigration detention centre

LONDON

BRITISH Indian Home Office minister Seema Malhotra has stepped in to order the removal of UK government job advertisements for roles such as a balloon craft tutor for illegal migrants while they are being held at a detention centre in London.

After The Sun newspaper reported on a number of over 30,000 pounds a year roles being advertised for the Heathrow Immigration Removal Centre (HIRC) on the official 'Find A Job' government website, Malhotra said the outsourcing agency contracted by the Home Office had been directed to remove the unnecessary roles.

Mitie, the agency behind the online posts, said they were part of its contractual agreement to meet the physical and mental wellbeing of the detainees. "We don't believe all these roles are necessary and have told the Home Office to speak to Mitie to remove them," said Malhotra, who is the government's Immigration Minister.

The "Hospitality and Floristry Tutor" job, which remains on the official website with a closing date for applications as September 21, lists the responsibilities as proactively promoting, designing and delivering workshops in relevant creative skills including 'floristry, cake decorating, balloon craft, arts and craft activities'. PTI

Thai Constitutional Court sacks Paetongtarn Shinawatra as PM

BANGKOK

THAILAND's Constitutional Court on Friday dismissed Prime Minister Paetongtarn Shinawatra, ruling that she violated ethics rules in a phone call with a high-ranking Cambodian official. The decision ends the term of the nation's youngest prime minister and delivers the latest blow to the powerful Shinawatra political dynasty that has dominated Thai politics for more than two decades.

Thailand's suspended Prime Minister Paetongtarn Shinawatra

In a 6-3 vote, the judges found that Paetongtarn's conduct in a June 15 call with Cambodia's former leader Hun Sen compromised national interests.

The call, which became public just weeks before a deadly border conflict erupted between the two countries, sparked outrage in Thailand. Audio of the conversation revealed Paetongtarn addressing Hun Sen as "uncle" and appearing to criticize a Thai army general as an "opponent" while discussing the tense border situation.

The court said that "due to a personal relationship that appeared aligned with Cambodia, the respondent was consistently willing to comply with or act in accordance with the wishes of the Cambodian side."

It added in its statement explaining its ruling that her reference to the Thai general "lacked demonstrable honesty and integrity, and seriously violated or failed to comply with ethical standards."

Paetongtarn, 39, has defended herself by arguing that her familiar tone during the call was a negotiating tactic aimed at deescalating tensions. She apologized, but insisted that it did not damage national security. After the court's ruling Friday, she said would accept it but insisted that she was innocent and had acted with the sole purpose of saving lives.

Audio of the call was leaked online by Hun Sen, who was Cambodia's prime minister for 38 years until his son Hun Manet took over the job in 2023. The phone call came as long-standing border tensions escalated after a Cambodian soldier was killed in a brief fracas with Thai troops in disputed territory in May.

In late June, the two countries engaged in five days of combat that killed dozens of people and displaced more than 260,000. The friendly tone of Paetongtarn's call raised hackles among many Thais because of her family's history. AP

Israeli army vehicles deploy in the Gaza Strip near border with southern Israel amid ongoing war | AFP

Gaza City now combat zone as Israel gets hostage remains

Pauses for aid movement suspended, fighting widens despite criticism

GAZA CITY

GAZA City is now a dangerous combat zone, Israel says, adding that it is in the "initial stages" of a planned offensive that has drawn international condemnation. Israel also said it had recovered the body of a hostage and the remains of another, and vowed its military offensive would return more.

Israel's military said it suspended midday pauses to fighting, which had allowed food and aid supplies to enter from 10 pm to 8 pm in Gaza's largest city. The shift comes weeks after Israel first announced plans to widen its offensive in Gaza City, where hundreds of thousands of displaced people are sheltering and enduring famine. Many Palestinians in Gaza City say they're exhausted after multiple displacements and question leaving when nowhere in Gaza is safe and any journey is costly. Israel's war against Hamas in Gaza has killed more than 63,000 people, the territory's Health Ministry said Friday.

Since early Friday morning, hundreds of Gaza City residents have begun the journey south, piling their few remaining possessions such as mattresses onto pickup trucks or donkey carts.

Residents complained about the latest displacement after many were forced to leave their homes more than once during the 22-month conflict.

"We cannot find any place in the west nor in the south. Conditions are difficult. Where are we going? We don't know," said Saddam Yazigi as he prepared to leave Gaza City."My daughter told me, 'I don't want to see tanks like last time,'" he added. Raeda Auda said she is being forcibly displaced again. "I can't express the feeling of pain that I'm going through."

Israel's recovery of more hostages Friday felt like a "stab in the stomach" for Rubi Chen, who believes his son is still in captivity in Gaza.

Israel said it had returned the body of one captive and the remains of another from Gaza Friday. It identified one as Ilan Weiss, a man killed in the initial Hamas attack.

The Israeli prime minister said the body of a dead Israeli and the remains of another were recovered following an operation in the Gaza Strip by Israeli forces and the country's internal security service Shin Bet. Netanyahu said Friday one set of remains belongs to Ilan Weiss who was killed on October 7, 2023 while defending Kibbutz Be'eri against attacking Hamas gunmen. AP

Turkey closes airspace to Israeli flights

ISTANBUL: Turkey has closed its airspace to Israeli planes in protest at the war in Gaza, Foreign Minister Hakan Fidan said on Friday. "We have completely cut off our trade with Israel. We do not allow Turkish ships to go to Israeli ports. We do not allow their planes to enter our airspace," he told a special parliamentary debate on Gaza in Ankara. Turkey severed direct trade ties with Israel in May last year, demanding a permanent ceasefire and the entry of humanitarian aid to Gaza.

49 killed in boat capsize near Mauritania

NOUAKCHOTT

AT least 49 people died and nearly 100 are still missing after a boat carrying migrants capsized this week, the Mauritanian coast guard said Friday. Authorities said the boat came from Gambia and capsized Tuesday morning off the coast of Mheijrat. "The boat left Gambia a week ago and had 160 people on board, including Senegalese and Gambian nationals," Mohamed Abdallah, the head of the coast guard, told The Associated Press.

"When the migrants saw the lights of the Mheijrat, they tried to move to one part of the boat, causing it to capsize," Abdallah said. The official said 49 bodies have washed ashore and just 17 people have been rescued so far. The others remain missing, the official said. In recent years, Mauritania's waters have become a highway for migrants across sub-Saharan Africa seeking to reach Europe, primarily the Canary Islands. In July 2024, a similar incident killed more than a dozen migrants on their way to Europe off Mauritania, with 150 others declared missing. AP

Airstrikes kill 3 in Afghanistan, Kabul blames Pak for attack

AIRSTRIKES that Afghanistan's Taliban government blamed on neighboring Pakistan struck two eastern provinces of the country, killing at least three people, wounding seven others and damaging homes, officials and witnesses said on Thursday. In Kabul, the foreign ministry decried the strikes that took place late Wednesday in Nangarhar and Khost provinces, calling them a "provocative act" by Pakistan and summoning the Pakistani ambassador in Kabul. The Afghan Defense Ministry also condemned the strikes. "Such barbaric and brutal actions benefit neither sides; rather intensify the distance between the two Muslim nations and fuel hatred. These irresponsible activities will have consequences," it wrote on X. Neither the Pakistani government nor the military commented on the alleged strikes. AP

Death of delivery rider sparks nationwide protests in Indonesia

JAKARTA

PROTESTS erupted in multiple cities and tensions soared across Indonesia on Friday, a day after a delivery rider was allegedly run over by a police armored vehicle during clashes between riot police and students protesting against lawmakers' allowances.

Protesters marched to the headquarters of the police mobile brigade in the capital Jakarta on Friday, and some attempted to storm the compound. Police used water canons and fired rounds of tear gas to push back the demonstrators, who hurled bottles, rocks and flares at them. One group of rioters set fire to a five-story building near the police compound in Kwitang neighborhood of central Jakarta, causing several people to be trapped inside. Some students halted their protests to help soldiers and residents rescue those trapped.

Other protesters destroyed traffic signs and other infrastructure, causing traffic to come to a standstill in the area. Clashes between rock-throwing demonstrators and riot police also broke out in other cities across the country, including Surabaya, Solo, Yogyakarta, Medan, Makassar, Manado, Bandung and Manokwari in the easternmost Papua region.

The unrest came after a video on social media apparently showing the death of the motorcycle taxi driver during Thursday's clashes shocked the nation and spurred an outcry against the security forces.

The victim, identified as 21-year-old Affan Kurniawan, was reportedly completing a food delivery service order when he was caught in the clash following days of violent demonstrations. Witnesses told local television that the armored car from the National Police's Mobile Brigade unit suddenly sped through the crowd of demonstrators and hit Kurniawan, causing him to fall. Instead of stopping, the car ran over him. AP

● Jio Infocomm's public issue will unlock value for 4.4 mn shareholders, says RIL chief ● Ambani describes year 2027 as 'golden decade' of RIL when it will turn 50

Jio IPO by 1st half of 2026: Ambani

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

RELIANCE Industries chairman Mukesh Ambani on Friday said he will take the group's telecom and digital arm Jio public by the first half of 2026.

Since its debut in 2016, Jio has netted over 500 million customers, which outnumber the combined populations of the US, France and England, making it one of the largest mobile operators in the world. Reliance Jio Infocomm's initial public offer (IPO) would unlock value for its 4.4 million shareholders, Ambani told shareholders at the 48th Annual General Meeting here on Friday.

"Today, it is my privilege to announce that Jio is making arrangements to file for its IPO. We are aiming to list Jio by the first-half of 2026, subject to necessary approvals," he said. Since its commercial debut in 2016, Jio has built the world's fastest 5G rollout, with an ambition to expand into smart homes, enterprise digitisation, and consumer AI services.

The RIL chairman added that Jio's road map includes connecting every household with mobile and broadband, launching smart home solutions, digitising enterprises and small businesses, and leading an "AI everywhere for everyone" push, alongside global expansion. Jio closed FY25 with a revenue of ₹1.28 trillion and an operating profit of ₹64,170 crore, making it the most profitable telecom company.

Taking the company public would give global investors direct access to the country's largest telecom service provider and unlock substantial value at the conglomerate level.

Over the past six years, Ambani has transformed the oil-to-chemicals giant into a consumer-technology powerhouse, bringing in strategic partners including Facebook, Google, and sovereign wealth funds, who collectively invested over $20 billion into Jio Platforms in 2020.

He also said Reliance became the country's first company with $125 billion in annual revenue in FY25, with an operating profit if of ₹1.83 lakh crore and net profit at ₹81,309 crore and contributing ₹2.1 lakh crore to the exchequer, making it the largest corporate contributor to the national exchequer and one of the country's top job creators, with a workforce of nearly 6.8 lakh.

Jio unveils AI cloud, JioPC, smart glasses

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RELIANCE Jio on Friday unveiled a new suite of AI-powered technologies, including the next-generation Jio AI Cloud, JioPC, and the much-anticipated smart glasses, JioFrames.

The upgraded Jio AI Cloud goes far beyond traditional cloud storage. With natural voice capabilities—including support for Indian languages—users can retrieve memories and information in a deeply intuitive way. For example, a simple prompt like "Hello Jio, mujhe last year Ganpati visarjan ke photos dikhao" enables system to fetch images, creating human-like interaction with tech. Whether for personal use or small business marketing, creativity is just a few taps—or words—away.

'Best of RIL yet to come, will more than double operating profit by 2027'

Reliance Retail eyes 20% annual compound revenue

Stating that Reliance Retail is eyeing 20% compounded annual revenue in next 3 years, he said it has added 2,659 new stores to 19,340 outlets across 7,000 towns. Ambani described retail business as one of the most impactful growth journeys in India

'New energy biz to become as large as O2C in 5-7 yrs'

Ambani projected stable returns from oil-to-chemicals (O2C) business and strong growth in materials segment. New energy business, aims to make India energy self-sufficient by 2047, is likely to become as large as O2C in next 5-7 years, he said

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

RELIANCE Industries will more than double its Ebitda or operating profit by 2027, chairman Mukesh Ambani said on Friday outlining the group's value creation road map that focuses on building new growth engines while strengthening existing businesses.

Addressing the shareholders at the company's 48th annual general meeting here on Friday, he described the year 2027 as 'golden decade' of the company when it will turn 50. Ambani said RIL has already transformed from a Fortune 1000 company into a Fortune 40 global powerhouse within a generation, creating over $200 billion in value entirely in India. He attributed this achievement to the group's four guiding principles, aligning its growth with national interest, building businesses of the future, scaling them to world-class standards, and investing heavily in talent and cutting-edge technologies.

"The best of Reliance is yet to come. In 2022, I made a promise that we will double Reliance by the end of our golden decade. At that time, our Ebitda was about ₹1.25 lakh crore ($14.6 bn). I reiterate that Reliance will more than double its Ebitda by the end of its golden decade in 2027," he added.

Looking ahead, he projected stable returns from the oil-to-chemicals (O2C) business and strong growth in materials segment, driven by high-value green fuels and chemicals. The new energy business, which aims to make India energy self-sufficient by 2047, is likely to become as large as O2C within the next five to seven years, he told the shareholders.

"In scale, ambition, and impact, it will surpass everything RIL has done so far," Ambani said. The consumer-facing engines will accelerate, he said, adding that Jio, with over 500 million subscribers, is targeting complete 5G migration and a move to 6G by 2030. Reliance Retail, already serving over 300 million customers a month, is likely to multiply revenue through its omni-channel, physical-digital-B2B model. Stating that Reliance Retail is eyeing 20% compounded annual revenue in next three years, he said the company has added 2,659 new stores to a total of 19,340 outlets across 7,000 towns.

ONGC EYES MORE OVERSEAS PROJECTS

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

STATE-owned Oil and Natural Gas Corporation (ONGC) is looking to acquire more exploration projects in foreign countries, including Russia, said chairman and MD Arun Kumar Singh on Friday.

Speaking to the media after the company's annual general meeting (AGM), Singh emphasised that Russia would continue to be a key exporter of natural resources. "The world (can't function) without Russia's resources, including crude," said Singh. When asked about the import of crude oil from Russia by ONGC's subsidiaries like Hindustan Petroleum Corporation (HPCL) and Mangalore Refinery and Petrochemicals (MRPL), Singh highlighted that the purchases would depend on commercial viability.

"You may be aware there are no sanctions from our side. Unless our government decides otherwise—which it hasn't—there is no bar on importing Russian crude. If it is commercially and economically viable, refineries will buy it. If not, they won't. Simple," he said. Both MRPL and HPCL have bought Russian oil at discounted rates since the beginning of the Ukraine conflict.

Regarding ONGC's dividend income stuck in Venezuela and Russia, Singh explained that banking restrictions have delayed the repatriation of funds. In Russia, "due to banking restrictions, some dividends remain in our account there," said Singh. ONGC Videsh Ltd (OVL), the overseas investment arm of ONGC, has about $350 million in dividend income stuck in Russian banks and another $600 million in Venezuela due to sanctions.

Rupee buckles under tariff heat, hits all-time low

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE rupee reached an unprecedented low on Friday, dropping past the 88-per-dollar mark for the first time in history. The decline came amid heightened worries in the market over the impact of stiff US tariffs on India's exports and subsequently its economic growth.

The local currency hit a low of 88.30 to the dollar, surpassing its prior record of 87.95 set in February. As per traders, an intervention by the central bank through dollar sales helped in partial recovery of rupee. Rupee closed the Friday trading session at a record low of 88.19 (provisional) against dollar. On Thursday, it had settled at 87.62/$.

So far in 2025, the rupee has declined about 3% against the US dollar, making it the lowest-performing currency in Asia this year. Kunal Sodhani, head, treasury at Shinhan Bank, said outflows from equity markets (August equity outflows are to the tune of ₹29,000 cr and July equity outflows about ₹17,000 cr), Trump's tariff pressure on India, the month-end oil demand and rupee-yuan dynamics are creating pressure on rupee.

The tariffs are likely to dent India's growth story and hit foreign portfolio flows. As per economists, the tariffs on Indian goods could trim between 60 and 80 bps from India's GDP growth rate if they remain in effect for an entire year.

The rupee weakened to a new all-time low against Chinese yuan on Friday. It dropped as much as 12.3862 against the offshore yuan on Friday. The yuan-rupee exchange rate is crucial for India's trade competitiveness, as both countries compete directly in US-bound sectors like textiles, engineering goods, and chemicals. The week saw Indian equities register their steepest drop since March as Sensex and Nifty fell about 2% each.

Anindya Banerjee, Senior VP and head of research – currency, commodity & interest rate at Kotak Securities, said rupee remains undervalued relative to its emerging market peers, but near-term direction will likely stay under pressure due to trade war concerns. The RBI is likely to intervene if spot approaches 88.50, though a sustained reversal would require a rollback of additional US tariffs.

We will not bow down, our exports will be higher than last year: Goyal

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

INDIA will not bow down and will uphold the self-respect of 140 crore people if faced with discrimination, assured commerce minister Piyush Goyal on Friday. His remarks came in response to the US decision to impose a 50% tariff on a large segment of Indian exports.

"I do not want to see any kind of discrimination. I think we will never bow down. We will never become weak," Goyal said at the curtain raiser of Bharat Buildcon. He stressed that India will soon conclude several free trade agreements (FTAs), opening up alternative markets for exporters. Agreements with the European Union and Oman are expected to be closed shortly, he added.

"This year will define our self-confidence," added Goyal.

He further said that India will continue to move forward and capture new markets. "This year, our exports will be higher than last year," Goyal remarked. The minister said exporters have shown full support to the government, and none of the affected sectors have raised complaints about their business being hurt due to the recent geopolitical tensions.

Goyal highlighted India's efforts to explore newer exports market. India has signed FTAs with the UK and Australia, with the latter exploring a second phase of negotiations. Talks are also advancing with Saudi Arabia, while engagements with African nations aim to strengthen collaboration in entrepreneurship and start-ups.

Negotiations with New Zealand, Chile, Peru and the Eurasian bloc have also been accelerated. A Commerce Ministry team is set to leave for the UK this week for the next round of talks, while a British delegation will visit India next week. "India will soon be able to build a stronger, more resilient supply chain that is not dependent on other countries," Goyal said.

Maharashtra, UP lead vehicle sales in Q1FY26

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TWO of India's biggest states – Maharashtra and Uttar Pradesh – led automobile sales in the first quarter of FY26 as total dispatches surpassed the 60 lakh units mark during the three month period.

As per the data issued by Society of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM), Maharashtra led the passenger vehicle (PV) market with sales of 118,952 units while Uttar Pradesh led the two-wheeler market by selling 8,18,195 units.

In the PV market, Maharashtra accounted for 11.8% of the total sales at nearly 1.19 lakh units and was closely followed by Uttar Pradesh where sales stood at 114,343 or 11.3% or total sales. The other big markets for PVs were Gujarat (7.6%), Karnataka (7.2%) and Haryana (6.8%). Delhi reported sales of 50,833 in Q1FY26, resulting in 5% of total PV sales.

Two-wheeler sales stood at 46.75 lakh units in April-June quarter and Uttar Pradesh dominated this market by selling 818,195 units or 17.5% of the total sales. Maharashtra came in second with 481,541 units (10.3% of total sales) and Tamil Nadu came in third with 342,064 units (7.3% of total sales). The other big two-wheeler markets were Bihar (6.9%), Madhya Pradesh (6.4%), Gujarat (6.1%), Karnataka (6%), West Bengal (4.9%) and Rajasthan (4.7%).

In the commercial vehicles segment, Maharashtra saw the highest number of CVs sold at 134,044 in FY25 with a 14% share, followed by Uttar Pradesh at 89,126 units (9.3%) and Gujarat at 82,433 units (8.6%). Tamil Nadu, which saw 70,567 units of CVs sold, was in fourth (7.4% share).

THAILAND

BUSINESS LEADERS WARN OF ECONOMIC RISKS

Thailand's leading business organisations have warned of economic risks following the Constitutional Court's decision on Friday to dismiss Prime Minister Paetongtarn Shinawatra from office, calling for urgent cooperation between public and private sectors to restore investor confidence. The Federation of Thai Industries cautioned that the ruling represents a major shift in political stability that could undermine both domestic and foreign investor confidence while disrupting long-term economic policy planning. Kriengkrai warned that the government transition could halt disbursement of the 2025 fiscal year budget, including various investment projects. However, he maintained that Thailand's economy still has recovery opportunities if public and private sectors collaborate to implement timely support measures. The FTI chief analyst highlighted that Thailand's economy faces additional risks in the latter half of the year.

PHILIPPINES

CUTS KEY POLICY RATE TO 5% AMID LOW INFLATION

The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) reduced its key policy rate by 25 basis points to 5.0% on Thursday, marking the third consecutive cut. The move came after July inflation eased to a near six-year low of 0.9 per cent, while the economy grew 5.5% year-on-year in the second quarter, its fastest pace in a year. All 26 economists surveyed by Reuters had predicted the quarter-point reduction in the Target Reverse Repurchase Rate (RRP). In a statement, the BSP said its inflation outlook remained "broadly unchanged," forecasting 1.7% for 2025, 3.3% for 2026, and 3.4% for 2027. The central bank, however, cautioned that potential electricity and rice price increases could add inflationary pressures and that emerging risks would need to be monitored closely.

JAPAN

OUTPUT FALLS AS US TARIFFS BITE, INFLATION SLOWS

Japan's factory output slumped in July as US tariffs come into effect. A leading indicator of nationwide inflation slowed, data showed on Friday, complicating the central bank's decision on the next rate-hike timing. While Japan's jobless rate hit a multi-year low in July due to a tight job market, retail sales rose much less than expected in a sign rising living costs were weighing on consumption. Signs of persistent inflationary pressure and downside risks to growth highlight the challenge the Bank of Japan (BOJ) faces in determining how soon to resume interest rate hikes. Industrial output fell 1.6% in July from the previous month, government data showed, more than a median market forecast for a 1.0% drop, due partly to a 6.7% decline in automobile production. Manufacturers surveyed by the government expect output to grow 2.8% in August before dipping 0.3% in September.

GST rejig: Non-BJP states flag revenue concern

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

AHEAD of the council meeting of Goods and Services Taxes (GST), eight opposition-ruled states have asked the government to devise mechanisms to address the potential revenue loss arising from the proposed GST rate rationalisation and ensure measures for anti-profiteering.

At a meeting in New Delhi, representatives from eight states — Kerala, Telangana, Karnataka, Himachal Pradesh, Punjab, West Bengal, Tamil Nadu and Jharkhand — flagged the issue of revenue losses due to rate rationalisation.

Speaking to the media Kerala's finance minister KN Balagopal said states could lose about ₹2.5 lakh crore, with each state bearing losses as high as ₹10,000–₹15,000 crore.

"Kerala alone could face a loss of minimum ₹8,000 crore," he noted. These states pointed out that the revenue losses would directly impact their social welfare and development programmes. A press note issued after the meeting stated that the tax reduction should be passed on to the common people and should not result in profiteering."

Kerala FM said that the government has to ensure that the benefits of tax reduction should go to the common people. "Generally, the big companies are taking that rate reduction as their profit," he said.

The suggestions of the states will be placed before the GST Council, scheduled to meet in New Delhi on September 3–4. The Centre has proposed simplification of GST by reducing the number of slabs to two — 5% and 18% — while luxury and "sin" goods will attract a special rate of 40%. Government sources have said tax on small petrol, LPG and CNG vehicles (engine capacity up to 1200 cc and under 4000 mm length), three-wheelers, diesel cars and light commercial vehicles up to 1500 cc, as well as auto parts and accessories, could be lowered from 28% to 18%. GST on business and premium class travel may rise from 12% to 18%.

The report stated the RERA has transformed India's housing market by instilling transparency, discipline, and long-term confidence. "It showcases that RERA has moderated runaway housing prices while restoring consumer trust and attracting institutional capital to the sector," the report added.

VICTORY IN DEFEAT FOR SINDHU

Indian ace shuttler misses out on medal but bows out of ongoing World Championships with plenty of goodwill

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

Indonesia's Putri Kusuma Wardani and India's PV Sindhu (L) after their women's singles quarterfinal tie | AFP

ALL heroes don't get happy endings. This popular sentiment is fitting for PV Sindhu, who was chasing history at the ongoing BWF World Championships in Paris on Friday. With hero status in India and world badminton for her contribution to the sport, if Sindhu had crossed her latest hurdle, it would also have been sort of a redemption for her. As had been the case for the last few days, the double Olympic medallist brought her warrior-like spirit to the grand stage and her goal was within her reach.

Despite the odds heavily stacked against her, it was her display of courage and iron will that had taken her this far. However, the Indian, who had been in the shadows before coming into the event, eventually ran out of steam against Indonesia's Putri Kusuma Wardani, her quarterfinal rival on the day, to agonisingly miss out on what would have been her sixth medal at the BWF Grade 1 event. It was an epic contest, especially the deciding game, as the duo was involved in energy-sapping rallies. Wardani, who's one of the rising shuttlers in the circuit, comprehensively crushed the Indian in the opening game but it was a complete contrast in the second as Sindhu, with more aggression in her game, showed her big-game nous. It was a see-saw contest towards the closing stages with both fighting like gladiators to keep the crowd on the edge of their seats. But Wardani, in the mid-stages of the game, stepped up to build some gap (15-11) between herself and Sindhu before going on to close out the tie. The final score read 21-14, 13-21, 21-16 in Wardani's favour. Sindhu was visibly crushed after the match. Wardani was teary-eyed, filled with emotions as she had secured her first-ever medal at the championships at Sindhu's expense.

After her eye-catching victory over World No 2 Wang Zhi Yi on Thursday, Sindhu was aware of the size of task ahead of her. "It's not over yet. I need to come back much stronger tomorrow (Friday) and be ready for everything." After a slow start on the day, she did display her steel and did show her readiness to adjust and fight for every point. Following an early trade-off, Wardani started dictating terms by engaging Sindhu in quick rallies and putting the Indian in uncomfortable positions to eke out points.

With her technical precision, the Indonesian was manipulating the shuttle at will as Sindhu struggled to cope with the pace of the proceedings.

Sindhu's coach Irwansyah had plenty to say during the break as the Indian, visibly catching her breath, suffered a sound beating in the game. Irwansyah's words of encouragement seemed to have worked as Sindhu turned into a different beast in the second game. After a positive start, Sindhu turned on the heat with some good bit of aggression, landing some good smashes to edge ahead. The 30-year-old, having had enough time to read her opponent, seemed more ready to deal with long rallies, forcing Wardani to make errors on several occasions. She capitalised on that to restore parity but the Indonesian had enough in the tank to close out the match.

Her World Championships campaign might have come sooner than she would have liked but her overall experience could spark a new beginning for Sindhu.

Near-miss for Dhruv-Tanisha

Dhruv Kapila and Tanisha Crasto also suffered a heartbreaking loss earlier in the day. The mixed doubles pair from India, like Sindhu, needed just a win to clinch a medal. The Indan pair lost 21-15, 21-13 against World No 4 pairing of Chen Tang Jie and Toh Ee Wei.

India submits 2030 CWG Games bid

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

AS the nation celebrates National Sports Day, India formally submitted the 2030 Commonwealth Games bid at the Commonwealth Sport (CS) office in London on Friday. The delegation was led by Harsh Sanghavi, Minister, Sports, Government of Gujarat. Once again as reported by this newspaper like for the Olympics, Amdavad (not Ahmedabad) will be the host city.

This comes days after the Cabinet approved India's bid for the Games and the bid was submitted to the CS interim president Donald Rukare and was done in presence of both Gujarat government and Commonwealth Games Association, India, members. What seems interesting is that the Cabinet had cleared Ahmedabad as the host city for the Centenary Games.

Besides the state sports minister, the delegates were Raghu Iyer CEO, IOA, Ashwini Kumar Principle secretary Gujarat government, Harpal Singh, executive committee member of the IOA and Pranshu Jain of Ernst & Young.

According to a statement released by the CGA, India, "The bid positions Amdavad as the host city for the Centenary edition of the Games, marking 100 years of the Commonwealth Games."

India is also highlighting its endeavour to host inclusive and sustainable Games. "The proposal reflects India's commitment to delivering a Games that is sustainable, inclusive, and aligned with the Commonwealth's Games Reset principles," it said.

Speaking on the submission, Sanghavi highlighted that the 2030 Commonwealth Games would hold significance for both India and the Commonwealth. "The event will mark a century of sporting excellence, unity and shared values within the Commonwealth, making the Centenary edition a landmark celebration," said the statement.

India will host a bigger and larger Games than the next edition in Glasgow next year. All the major disciplines like hockey, shooting, archery, wrestling and squash will be back on the roster. The bid also showcases India's history and cultural heritage. The Games will be based on the ancient principles of 'vasudhaiva kutumbakam' (the world is a family).

India had last hosted the Commonwealth Games in 2010 that led to a huge corruption charges and scandal. Hopefully, this time the government would manage to avoid such a situation.

CGA, India and IOA chief PT Usha said that the bid represents the aspirations of an entire nation. "The Commonwealth Games in Amdavad will showcase not just India's sporting capabilities but also the values of friendship, respect, and inclusivity that define our sporting culture," she said in the statement.

With not too many countries willing to host the CWG, India are most likely to bag the rights to host the Games. The last CWG in 2010 improved India's overall international sporting health but failed to create sporting culture that is necessary for a progress of the nation. Two years later, at the London Olympics, India bagged six medals but in Rio they bagged just two. At Tokyo Olympics in 2021, India managed just seven.

Asia Cup: Hard-fought win for India in opener

ENS/AGENCIES @ Rajgir

India players celebrate a goal against China in Rajgir on Friday | PTI

FOR four minutes and change in Rajgir, the men's hockey team displayed a fragility, a weakness they hadn't shown in the last 16 months or so. China had taken the lead through a penalty corner but India had responded with three unanswered PC goals to seemingly enjoy relatively serene progress in the first match of their Asia Cup campaign in Bihar.

But the Chinese, a compact side who are known for their set-piece prowess in attack, levelled the game with one quarter. Like, hello. This wasn't supposed to be like this. The script suggested that the hosts, best in Asia in terms of ranking, were overwhelming favourites to win the competition, a World Cup qualifier.

But China pushed, prodded and asked a lot of uncomfortable questions from Craig Fulton & Co. In the end, India did manage a narrow 4-3 win — a Harmanpreet hat-trick and a Jugraj Singh goal, all of them from PCs — but this was a continuation of some of the games from the Pro League in the summer when the team lost six out of seven. There was some understandable ring rust but the hosts did keep the ball for long periods in the first quarter. The tourists, however, converted from a dead-ball in the 12th minute to take a shock lead. Jugraj restored parity before Harmanpreet converted the first of his goals.

When he scored again to multiply their advantage, it was looking like a regulation tournament-opening win. But China pushed their opponents right till the final whistle.

"We played well enough to win the game but we didn't play to our expectations," the South African said after the match. "The first hurdle was a good hurdle. There was a lot of fight in our team which was nice to see but we missed a few chances and we conceded a few soft goals as well. What was important was to get the three points and we did that." After getting past the challenge of the 23-rd ranked team, they next face Japan, ranked 18th, on Sunday.

Alcaraz marches into fourth round

AFP @ New York

CARLOS Alcaraz breezed past Luciano Darderi in straight sets to advance to the fourth round of the US Open on Friday morning. The second-seed was the favourite but the Italian can be a tricky opponent. However, the Spaniard wasted little time in despatching the 32-nd seed 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

Jannik Sinner, the top-seed in the other half of the draw, is still the bookies favourite to win but Alcaraz is building a head of steam as he heads into the second. He has now won nine straight sets. Earlier on Thursday, Alexander Zverev cruised into the third round with a straight-sets win over Britain's Jacob Fearnley. Zverev eased past the World No. 60 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 to book a date with Canadian 25th seed Felix Auger-Aliassime.

Raducanu loses in R3

Emma Raducanu's best US Open since her surprising 2021 title ended in the third round with a 6-1, 6-2 loss to 2022 Wimbledon champion Elena Rybakina in just 62 minutes. Rybakina reached Week 2 at Flushing Meadows for the first time. Meanwhile, a tearful Coco Gauff battled through another shaky performance to defeat Croatia's Donna Vekic and reach the third round on Thursday. Third seed Gauff, the 2023 US Open champion, could be seen sobbing into her towel at times during an error-strewn first set before clinching a 7-6 (5), 6-2 win. Gauff's preparations for the US Open were thrown into disarray just days before the tournament when she shook up her coaching team and brought in a new biomechanics coach to help improve her serve.

CAFA Nations Cup: India get better of Tajikistan

AGENCIES @ Hisor (Tajikistan)

GURPREET Singh Sandhu stood tall under the bar with a series of stunning saves, including a spot-kick, as India, under new coach Khalid Jamil, beat higher-ranked Tajikistan 2-1 in their opening match of the CAFA Nations Cup football tournament on Friday.

World No 133 India scored through defenders Anwar Ali (5th) and Sandesh Jhingan (13th) and then doggedly defended against the 106th ranked hosts for the remaining 75 minutes.

Jamil, in his first match as India head coach, couldn't have asked for a better result and credit should go to skipper Gurpreet, who returned to the starting XI after being sidelined under former coach Manolo Marquez. "Indian fans had waited for this result for a long time. I know we defended deep at times but we are still rusty but we need to build on this win. We need to show more character against Iran," Jhingan said in a snap interview.

Lack of quality in the attacking third is still a big problem but on Friday, centre backs Anwar and Jhingan took it upon themselves to end India's scoring draught that had stretched to three international games within the first 15 minutes.

The shape that the team kept in both attack and defence had signature Jamil written all over it. The lateral backs -- Rahul Bheke and Muhammed Uvais Moyikkal initially went on overlap although after a couple goals, they strangely went into a defensive mould.

Anwar, perhaps Indian football team's most priceless possession at the moment, had his name on the scoresheet in the fifth minute when he headed in from a goalmouth melee.

Keeper-batter Mahajan ready for domestic grind

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

Innesh Mahajan, 20, led Himachal Pradesh in the Buchi Babu Tournament

INNESH Mahajan was in Puducherry representing Himachal Pradesh in the senior inter-state one-day tournament when he was asked to join another team from the state playing in the All India Buchi Babu Invitation Tournament in Chennai. Himachal captain Mayank Dagar had to join the North Zone team for the Duleep Trophy and hence the coach decided to bring in Mahajan.

Hours after reaching Chennai, 20-year-old Mahajan not only took the field but also led the team in their second match against Chhattisgarh. Having captained Himachal U19 team in the past, the wicketkeeper and left-hand opening batter had the experience and his teammates made it easy for him by lending support.

It was Mahajan's mother, Ekta, who encouraged him to take up sports. "At four, I started with tennis and then dabbled in skating before switching to cricket at six." Before he was born, the parents shifted to Noida from Himachal Pradesh and the move only helped their son to grow as a cricketer.

Three years later, Mahajan changed the school to pursue cricket seriously. "I joined Billabong School that has Wonders Cricket Club. There I met coach Phool Chand Sharma sir. He played a key role in my development as a cricketer. He also introduced me to Tanmay (Srivastava) bhaiyya there. Since then, he has been mentoring me and guiding me." Tanmay is a former Uttar Pradesh and India U19 player.

Mahajan made his first-class debut in the 2024-25 season playing two Ranji Trophy matches and slamming a fifty on his debut. Mahajan might not have got a game in the 2024 U19 World Cup but he didn't regret it. He in fact wants to focus on the the upcoming domestic season. "I am in a happy space at the moment. The coaches and everyone here in the team are backing me which in turn gives me a lot of confidence," signed off Mahajan.

TRIED & TESTED FORMULAE

I'VE always felt that in the late 2000s to the 2010s, there was a genuine effort in Bollywood to make meaningful films without offending people. There was thought put into storytelling, an attempt to tell real, grounded stories, even in commercial cinema. Today, with anti-intellectualism on the rise, films seem to be getting significantly dumbed down. Everything is based on tried and tested formulae. The persistence of outdated stereotypes, I believe, is a result of this. This is the same Bollywood that has portrayed positive, realistic Malayalee characters without stereotypes in films like Dil Se, Chef, Qarib Qarib Single, and Karwaan. It's not that Bollywood doesn't know how to do it; it's that they don't care and prioritise profit. — Vedangi Cherukattu, Content Creator

With Param Sundari's release on Friday, B'lureans weigh in on the growing criticism over the film's cultural representation of South India

PREP BEFORE REP!

A poster of Param Sundari

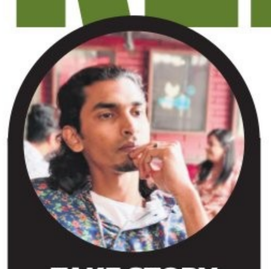
PREVALENT EVEN IN 2025

I FEEL that stereotypes around South Indian culture are prevalent in Bollywood even in 2025. Despite much progress that Malayalam cinema has made over the past few years, Bollywood somehow fails to appreciate the cultural value. When the nation is already divided over north-south differences, not respecting cultural heritage is only going to exacerbate the issue. Being a Malayalee, I know that we would've appreciated it more than the repercussions if our culture and language were not butchered for a movie. Hindi, as a commonly used language in different states, gives it a lot of power, especially in cinema. I wish this power were put to bridging the differences instead of purely monetising the audience. — Dr Afriyna Ashraf, YouTuber

DON'T OVERANALYSE

FROM the trailer and songs released so far, Param Sundari appears to be the film audiences are waiting for – colourful and lighthearted. Pardesiya, captures that nostalgic Bollywood energy while still feeling fresh. Bollywood audiences have always loved dramatic and celebratory films; just look at hits like Two States and Chennai Express, which entertained audiences and performed well at the box office. While criticism has its place, cinema is ultimately about joy, escape, and entertainment. It's best to enjoy it for what it is, rather than overanalyse.

Achuth R, Issue Analyst



TAKE STORY SERIOUSLY

AS a director, Tushar Jalota failed to show Jahnvi's character with soul, which is underlined by the nativity. In cinemas, casting a person from a particular area of the story, which is geographically demanding, would be the right choice, and that will fulfil the character's features authentically. Or he could have trained the selected artiste to do the particular character as described in the script. In my opinion, these are the factors that we need to keep in mind while portraying a character to represent a place or an event. Or else such misrepresentation will continue to happen when directors don't take stories seriously and focus only on the artiste's satellite value. Now, people value money more than art – it's all about business now. — KV Aslam Rahman, Art Designer

ANJALI RAM, SRUTHI HEMACHANDRAN

Netizens are having a field day as trolls and memes around Param Sundari take the internet by storm.

The film, though initially won praises for its song Pardesiya, crooned by Sonu Nigam and Krishnakali Saha, and featuring Sidharth Malhotra and Jhanvi Kapoor against the lush backdrop of a beautiful tea plantation, it soon stirred a debate over the absurdly long name of the latter's character and, more significantly, its stereotyping of South Indians – something many argue goes well beyond artistic freedom. The row echoes the sentiments surrounding Bollywood films like Chennai Express, which was criticised for its portrayal of Tamil culture, and The Kerala Story, which received a National Award but faced backlash for its misrepresentation and exaggeration of certain cultural-political aspects.

As Param Sundari hit screens on Friday, influencers and enthusiasts buzz with opinions. Beyond the jokes and criticism, the question remains: Did Param Sundari perpetuate existing stereotypes, or can it be viewed as a mere source of entertainment?

PROPAGANDA, NOT A PORTRAYAL

TAKE Meenamma from Chennai Express or the recent Param Sundari trailer with 'Thekkapetta Sundari Damodaran Pillai', even the pronunciation is a whole puzzle. Instead of moving forward, Bollywood just rewraps the same cliches with new faces. The Kerala Story and the lead character Shalini Unnikrishnan came as a shocker to me. The entire film leaned heavily on stereotypes that it felt like propaganda rather than a real portrayal. For many people outside the south, Bollywood is their only window to us. So, when they see these caricatures again and again, they assume that's who we really are. — Anupama Raj, Content Strategist

FREEDOM COMES WITH RESPONSIBILITY

BOLLYWOOD has always had a bit of a habit of slotting South Indians into certain boxes, and while things are slowly changing, you still see the same stereotypes pop up now and then. Of course, filmmakers should have the freedom to tell the stories they want to, but that freedom also comes with responsibility. For people who don't know much about the South, these portrayals can end up shaping their whole perception. Which is why it would be great to see more layered, authentic stories that actually reflect the richness of life in the South. That said, I'd like to share a fuller perspective once I've seen the film. — Steffi Chiramel, Content Creator

Roysten Abel's hit show The Manganiyar Seduction is set to mesmerise the city with folk music from the deserts of Rajasthan

Playwright Roysten Abel's The Manganiyar Seduction will be performed today

A SPECTACLE OF EMOTION

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

With 38 musicians coming together in mellifluous harmony seated in the lit-up compartments of a larger-than-life backdrop, theatre director-playwright Roysten Abel's hit show The Manganiyar Seduction is, in his words, 'an auditory and visual spectacle'. Having performed 700 shows worldwide, the show is set to come to the city through a partnership with Bhumija. In 19 years, according to Abel, this is the 'fourth or fifth public showing' in Bengaluru.

Featuring manganiyar musicians from the deserts of Rajasthan, the production was born when Abel came across them while looking for folk musicians for a play he was taking to Spain. "When I heard these musicians for the first time, what I experienced was a great grandeur in the music and listening to them repeatedly seduced me into it," explains Abel. The structure of the 70-minute performance itself reflects this 'emotional high' that Abel experienced. "We don't do song after song, we've just taken one – Sufi poet Bulleh Shah's Alfat In Bin Un Bin – and created a narrative around it from the beginning to the end. The other two are situational songs, which bring in a definite kind of emotion – they come in and go away," says Abel. "It takes you through an emotional roller coaster ride, and that's why, in the end, you have so many people crying and saying, 'Oh my god, what hit me?'"

The set design, consisting of boxes stacked on top of each other, with a musician in each one, and lit up in turn, as the intensity builds, emerged from Abel's search for visuals that would appropriately convey the music's grandeur and seductive quality, while highlighting the musicians' individuality. He stumbled into the answer in an unexpected place – in Amsterdam's red light district. "After a show, we accidentally strolled into the red light district, this whole street, with multiple windows – it was like one big burlesque show happening over there, and I was amazed by the theatricality of it. This, and the windows of the Hawa Mahal put together, was how we arrived at the concept," says Abel.

Set to complete 20 years next year, one wonders what about the show has endured the test of time and geography, connecting with audiences. In Bengaluru too, the production has struck a chord, with the first and second shows announced for Saturday at The Prestige Centre for Performing Arts, Konanakunte, selling out in approximately a week, leading to the announcement of a third one on Friday to meet the demand. "Outside the country or inside, most people can't understand the language (Marwari and Sindhi) and they don't get the meaning of the songs. But this is what music does to people at an ephemeral level. Because of the arrangement, people experience their emotions in a profound way. In New York, the Lincoln Centre, and here, people come to see it again and again and again," says Abel, adding, "Of course, now there is also a new generation that hasn't experienced it, who are interested. It hasn't gotten old yet!"

FITNESS BOXING: A FULL-BODY WORKOUT THAT PACKS A PUNCH

Looking for a workout that blends strength training with cardio while keeping things fun? Fitness boxing might be the answer. Designed to mimic the movements of professional boxing without the bruises, it engages nearly every muscle group, giving you a thorough full-body workout.

WHY IT WORKS AS A FULL-BODY WORKOUT

Boxing isn't just about throwing punches. The movements are powered by a kinetic chain, a coordinated sequence where your arms, shoulders, back and core all work together.

- Upper body: Punching movements tone the arms, shoulders, and back.
- Lower body: Slips, swings, and crouches build strength in the legs and glutes.
- Core: Every jab and hook requires rotational force from the abs and obliques, sneaking in an intense core workout.

ARM TONING BENEFITS

Boxing especially shines when it comes to shaping and strengthening the arms. Here's how different muscles get activated:

- Biceps: Engaged simply by keeping your hands raised in guard position. Contrary to fears, boxing alone won't bulk them up.
- Deltoids &traps: Lifting the arm for hooks and crosses triggers the medial deltoids, while pulling back to defend engages the posterior deltoid and traps.
- Triceps: Key to straight punches, they extend the arm repeatedly and help prevent sagging at the back of the upper arm.

DRILLS AND TECHNIQUES FOR TONED ARMS

Fitness boxing uses a mix of classic and modern drills to build endurance and power:

- Heavy bag punching: Develops strength, conditions ligaments and bones, and doubles as a stress-buster.
- Combo speed bag drill: A five-round workout alternating jab-cross, hook, and uppercut combinations to improve speed and coordination.
- Shadowboxing: Punching into the air with proper stance and footwork engages the chest, shoulders, arms, and legs while torching calories.
- Bodyweight circuits: Push-ups, squats, lunges, planks, burpees, and high knees add muscular endurance and functional strength.
- Core workouts: Every punch draws power from the abs, obliques, and back, making a strong core essential for offense and defense alike.

MORE THAN TONED ARMS

Beyond visible definition, boxing brings with it a host of health benefits – stronger bones, better endurance, sharper reflexes, and improved cardiovascular health. Regular practice can help lower the risk of high blood pressure, heart disease, and stroke.

THE TAKEAWAY

With its blend of drills and techniques, Fitness Boxing offers a full-body conditioning routine that challenges both body and mind.

SOMETIMES life throws you a curved ball and I think I have become a specialist at catching them. I know I am perceived to be indomitable, strong and confident. But, honestly, sometimes I just want my 'mommy' who unfortunately isn't with me anymore. When do we stop needing our parents? The answer my friend may be 'blowing in the wind', but for sure, my answer is going to be a resounding 'Never'! I just called a friend of mine, Saritha Hegde and blubbered into the phone about how great her mom and she looked together in the farm oasis they have created together. I remember her visiting Saritha in the city before she moved, and her mom looked unhappy and sick. But now, God bless her, she is striving and thriving, making me think that our parents, especially our moms need us too! The mother-daughter relationship goes through subtle changes, and after a little readjustment and realignment, we find our own spaces and settle in.

In our ooru, though we are very welcoming of newbies and new recruits, we tend to close ranks when it comes to old associations, especially if we went to school or college together or our kids went to the same school. Usually our parents were friends too, which would technically make our children, the third generation of 'nepo kids'! When we meet the affection is genuine, the stories don't need a reference to context and our kids like hanging out with us.

This happened when Simran Chandok, her DIL and I met up for lunch in our familiar playground, the 13th Floor at The Barton Centre. The 13th Floor is an institution in itself and serves up Bangalore's most fave dishes from Indian to pan-Asian. Like all things familiar, the restaurant is a brainchild of the Rajarams, who are also great friends of ours. Now, their son Nakul Rajaram (who incidentally was a classmate of both Simran's son and mine) runs their chain of restaurants like a professional restaurateur! We reminisced about when our kids were the proverbial 'bright brats' during their school years while Nakul gave us the inside scoop of what went on! Slurping on our Khao Sueys, and hot prawns and chicken tikkas washed down with some awesome cocktails, I was in seventh heaven. There is something about being in familiar places, with familiar people that makes our ooru a very special place.

When the 'Dean Duo', mother Rupali and daughter Akanksha Dean told me that the Burmese chef GooGoo was going to be doing a pop-up at Conrad Bengaluru, I was raring to go. Firstly, because I love Burmese food and secondly, because I needed to see and interact with GooGoo! Conrad's speciality restaurant Mikusu, was packed to capacity and I was delighted with the friendly chef who was forthcoming with her culinary expertise. She regaled us with tit-bits of information about the origins of the dishes which had surprisingly familiar tastes. Her green matcha chutney was a hit which we shamelessly walloped as soon as it was replenished on the table. Digvijay Singh, the GM, was an impeccable host and again it was great to see old Bangalore's familiar faces dining there.

The greatest value of surrounding yourself with good people is that, the more you surround with good people, the better you become...

Priyanka Achar

MENTORSHIP HAS BEEN THE MOST REWARDING PART OF ELUMALE: PRIYANKA ACHAR

A SHARADHAA

The actor talks about her acting dreams, mentorship, and journey from the reality show Mahanati to her debut film

A still from the film

WHEN Priyanka Achar first walked onto the stage of the reality show Mahanati, she hardly imagined it would change the course of her life. She thought she'd last "two weeks at best." Instead, she walked away as the winner. "I was only thinking about how I needed to work on getting to the big screen, but never thought of getting into a reality show, and winning was never in my mind. But that win gave me my first wing toward cinema, and today, being part of Elumale, my first film, feels like a dream come true," says Priyanka ahead of the film's release on September 5.

The newcomer is soft-spoken, often measuring her words, but her ambitions are clear. "I believe in hard work," she says. "When Tharun sir gave me Rs 500 on the Mahanati stage as a token for my career, I manifested that someday I would work under his banner. He blessed me, and now I have this opportunity through his production house, Tharun Sudhur Kreativez. It feels like life has come full circle."

Elumale, directed by Punit Rangaswamy, is no small debut. It's a cross-border romance that pairs Priyanka opposite Raanna, with a supporting cast that includes veterans like Kishore and TS Nagabharana. Priyanka plays Revathi, a Tamil Nadu girl who falls in love with Harisha, a Karnataka boy played by Raanna. "More than a role, I was looking for good cinema. I accepted this film even before hearing the script because I trusted Tharun Sudhir, the banner, and the guidance. The role turned out to be powerful, giving me equal importance alongside the hero."

The character came with challenges. She had to learn Tamil dialogues and adapt to the dialect, while also exploring the innocence and boldness that define her part. "I had to work on language, reactions, and method acting. I had to feel the space and the environment. It pushed me to be both natural and expressive," she says.

For Priyanka, mentorship has been the most rewarding part of the journey. Director Punit Rangaswamy urged her to "be natural", while Tharun Sudhir reminded her never to neglect the responsibilities of a big production. "He would foresee my mistakes even before I made them. That kind of treatment is what a newcomer truly needs," she notes.

Her co-stars, too, became guides. Raanna, she says, was 'a good co-star and very supportive,' while her first encounter with Kishore remains etched in her memory. "I had to face my first shot with him, and had memorised all my lines, but in the moment, when the camera was rolling, and he shouted as part of the scene, I froze. I shivered, and I even cried. I thought I had failed, but that was exactly the reaction they wanted."

And then there was veteran Nagabharana, who patiently coached her through night shoots. "I would fumble with the dialogues, and he would sit with me and teach me. I was a student, and everyone on set became my teacher," she says.

Despite her quiet demeanour, Priyanka is aware she's begun on a big note. "Even when I won Mahanati, people asked why I didn't jump with excitement. That's just how I am. I react with a line or a smile," she concludes.

Pavan Wadeyar, Venkat Konanki and Shivarajkumar

KVN Production to produce Shivanna's next, directed by Pavan Wadeyar

The film set to roll from September 3, brings together Jayaram, Sai Kumar, Gopalakrishna Deshpande, and Prakash Belawadi, featuring Sanjana Anand and Dheekshith Shetty

CE FEATURES

SHIVARAJKUMAR continues his busy streak with yet another film, which will go on floors on September 3 in Bengaluru. The project will be directed by Pavan Wadeyar, who has earlier helmed two successful outings with Puneeth Rajkumar and is now collaborating with Shivanna for the very first time. Subsequent schedules are planned in Mandya, Himachal Pradesh, Mumbai, and Hyderabad.

The project is bankrolled by KVN Productions, led by Venkat Narayana Konanki, in association with Wadeyar Movies. KVN has been on an aggressive expansion mode with a host of multilingual ventures, including KD, Jananayagan, a Hindi film directed by Priyadarshan starring Akshay Kumar and Saif Ali Khan, a Malayalam film with director Balan, and a Telugu project with megastar Chiranjeevi. The addition of this Shivarajkumar-starrer strengthens the banner's diverse line-up.

The film brings together a power-packed cast, featuring interesting actors like Jayaram, Sai Kumar, Gopalakrishna Deshpande, and Prakash Belawadi, alongside younger talents Sanjana Anand and Dheekshith Shetty. Mounted on a large scale, it is pitched as a commercial entertainer loaded with action, drama, and emotion. The music will be composed by Ajaneesh Loknath, while Shashank Narayan will handle the editing.

Ravi Gowda juggles multiple responsibilities in I'm God

CE FEATURES

RAVI Gowda is set to take the lead in I'm God, his upcoming romantic thriller. Recently, the film's first look and motion poster were released by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah. Now, the first song of the film has been released.

Ravi Gowda not only plays the hero but also directs and produces the film, marking his first independent venture in Kannada. While he appeared earlier in Dhvaj, I'm God is his solo project as a hero and director.

The song, released during the Gowri festival, is sung by popular youth sensation Sanjith Hegde, composed by Ajaneesh Loknath, with lyrics by Nagarjun Sharma. "The song depicts a boy's emotions after falling in love. The combination of Ajaneesh Loknath's music and Sanchit's voice adds extra charm," says Ravi.

Having completed shooting, the film is in post-production and is expected to be released by the end of this year. Shot across Bengaluru and Kerala, I'm God features debutant Viteja Pareek alongside Ravi Gowda, with supporting performances from Ravishankar, Avinash, and Aruna Balraj.

Sacred vows, brutal murders, and a thriller short of breath

USIRU

Director: Panem Prabhakar

Cast: Tilak, Santhosh Nadivada, Priya Hegde, Apoorva Nagaraj, Naidile Shaiva, Raaghu Ramanakoppa, and Bala Rajawadi

A SHARADHAA

A FILM set against the windswept Stuart Hills, Usiru opens with a ritual that immediately sets the stage for something different. Pregnant women, under a full moon, gather before Katamma, the local goddess, praying for safe childbirth. It is a tradition steeped in faith, but one that doesn't sit easily with everyone. A sceptic curses the idol, dismissing the very sanctity of the vow. This contradiction between belief and disbelief could have been the film's spine — a clash of faith, violence, and the unknown. Unfortunately, Usiru, by director Panem Prabhakar, chooses instead to scatter itself across crime drama, family emotion, and slasher thrills, never quite settling on what it wants to be.

The story runs on two distinct tracks. On one side is Surya (Santhosh Nadivada), introduced as a juvenile in police custody, whose love for his mother and instinct to protect her define his violent outburst. His time in prison becomes a canvas for redemption, guided by Inspector (Bala Rajawadi) and softened by the presence of the Inspector's daughter Siri (Apoorva Nagraj). Years later, when he steps out seeking answers about his murdered parents, he is weighed down with grief and vengeance.

Parallelly, Raj (Tilak), a cop demoted to a sleepy village, arrives with his pregnant wife Aishwarya (Priya Hegde). The couple's domestic warmth is set against an escalating dread. Pregnant women go missing every August, only to be found mutilated. Constable Narayan (Raaghu Ramanakoppa) briefs Raj about missing teens, smuggling, and murders, but he sidesteps conflict to keep his family safe. However, a pregnant woman's murder leads Raj into the orbit of Simon, Rocket, and a coterie of masked men who seem ripped out of a pulp crime novel. Raj is torn: does he bury himself in safety for his wife's sake, or risk everything to confront a horror that circles back year after year?

On paper, this dual narrative is ambitious. Faith rituals, a cursed vow, a boy scarred by violence, and a cop confronting systemic evil. The material is ripe for a layered psychological thriller. But on screen, Usiru struggles to align its ambitions. Songs puncture the tension. Graphic violence is used as shock value rather than storytelling. Characters like Surya, who begin with emotional heft, are reduced to plot devices as the film lurches into its second half. The story slips between investigation and gore, losing the suspense it sets out to build.

That said, the film is not without moments that linger. Raj tracing the murders to a chilling annual cycle has the pull of a proper crime procedural. The childhood flashbacks of Surya, his bond with his mother, and the fragile imagery of dolls and paper boats give the film the texture it otherwise lacks. The Stuart Hills backdrop, with its mist and shadows, adds atmosphere that the script doesn't always earn.

But thrillers live and die by their rhythm, and Usiru cannot hold its breath long enough. It hints at the contrast between faith and fear, cycles of violence, and the fragility of redemption, but weakens them with excess. The result is a film that is unsettling without being suspenseful, and ambitious without being cohesive. Usiru, which means 'breath', begins with a setup that holds promise — part cultural fable, part crime drama — but its uneven delivery leaves it gasping for consistency.

Violent, oddly eccentric, and not everyone's cup of tea

RIPPAN SWAMY

Director: Kishore Moodbidri

Cast: Vijay Raghavendra, Ashwini Chandrashekar, Yamuna Srinidhi, Prakash Thuminad, and Vajradheer Jain

A SHARADHAA

THE title card erupts from a gunshot, and a dead man drenched in blood. That single sequence sets the mood of a film that refuses niceties and instead hurls us into violence, folklore and raw rustic energy. Set in the fictional Malnad village of Snana Kopa, Rippan Swamy (Vijay Raghavendra) builds itself around a man who is part rumour, part reality and wholly chaotic. Was he Rippan or Swamy? His very presence unsettles. His entry at a hair salon — half menace and half vulnerability — signals a character who resists explanation. Is his nature his greatest ally or his deadliest flaw? Kishore Moodbidri ensures Swamy isn't someone you "understand"; he is someone you experience.

The narrative unfolds like a mosaic stitched with half-truths, gossip, memories and relentless violence. Tulu slang and Malnad folk rhythms drive the storytelling, a chaotic declaration that this is no conventional thriller. Credit here goes to Samuel Abby, whose score blends folk with violent tempos. Cinematographer Ranganth CM turns the Malnad landscape into a breathing character, intercutting it with close-ups that make Rippan Swamy's face a map of contradictions.

At the centre is Vijay Raghavendra in what may be his career's most radical role. Shedding his clean-cut persona, he embodies Rippan Swamy as both butcher and broken man. One moment, he shoulders rifles with operatic swagger, and the next, he longs to love his wife, Mangala, in a possessive and fractured way. For those who've tracked Vijay's versatility, this is a daring addition to his repertoire, but the audience's reception is the big challenge.

Ashwini Chandrashekar as Mangala anchors the film's emotional core. Her life without stepping outside, and her dream buried under domestic weight, becomes a subplot about suffocated women in small-town India. Her quiet strength stands in stark contrast to Swamy's volatile chaos. Will she rise and claim her due? The film leaves the question hanging, lingering like an aftertaste and springing a twist in its wake.

The supporting ensemble is more than ornamental. Santhosh (Santhosh Shetty) evolves from companion to casualty of Swamy's rage. Kuppu, once his closest ally, drifts into bitter enmity. Inspector Anand (Vajradheer Jain), balancing law and old friendship, portrays moral conflict. Even fleeting presences like Sharada (Yamuna Srinidhi) and Inspector Anjumala (Anushka) carry weight. Brief humour from Prakash Thuminad and others punctuates the narrative, but laughter is quickly consumed by the darkness circling Swamy.

The action is audacious. The opening stretch itself is a long fight sequence, setting a tone that recurs throughout: elongated, unrelenting battles that dare the viewer to fatigue. Rural vendettas, bloodstains and hand-to-hand brutality aren't just a spectacle; they double up as metaphors for Swamy's disintegration. His friends bury what they don't comprehend. His wife questions his bizarre ways. His enemies circle like vultures. Swamy emerges as both victim and perpetrator, undone by the world and by himself.

Yet the film is not without cracks. The runtime is indulgent. The screenplay meanders mid-way, wandering into subplots that feel like detours. The heavy dialect and coded dialogues enrich authenticity but risk alienating audiences unfamiliar with Malnad or Tulu. Still, the final moments pull the threads together with Swamy's refusal to surrender, even as his world collapses, sealing his fate with tragic inevitability.

Rippan Swamy is not designed for easy consumption. It is raw, loud, bloody, uneven and often exasperating. Yet it breathes, bursting with local flavour, moral ambiguity and feverish energy that mainstream thrillers rarely risk. Much like its protagonist, the film is unpredictable, unsettling and impossible to ignore.

Basically, Rippan Swamy is a rural thriller with part folklore, part mystery, and part bloodbath. Admire it or detest it, you cannot walk away without carrying Rippan's scars, and it is definitely not for the faint-hearted.
